

REPRESENTATIVES of the American Medical Association, and of 42 state medical boards, resolved at Chicago to lead in a new crusade against quackery and charlatanism in the healing arts.

More strength to their arm! There is no more conscienceless fraud than the average purveyor of quack medicine, no more vicious cheat than the practitioner who pretends to qualifications which he has not, and no more dangerous honest delusion than the pathetic faith in unscientific "schools" and dogmas of healing. The victim of them all are the broken and the helpless, the weak and the ignorant. It is robbery of the poorest, oppression of the weakest, assault on the most helpless.

The hard thing is that the victims of these charlatans are their chief defenders. They can not be fought, like other criminals, by appealing to moral indignation against them. It takes the slower and harder process of education. It means to substitute the modern for the medieval mind; to recognize that medicine is not magic, but science; that its conclusions are derived, not from dogmas, but from observation; that its stuff is not doctrine, but knowledge; that it rests, not on faith, but on fact. Only when this intellectual standpoint is reached, toward scientific medicine, is it possible to arouse just moral indignation against the frauds of anti-science.

SAN FRANCISCO Bay needs a bridge. Eighteen supervisors favor eighteen plans, all mixed with politics. So, at last, politics having become deadlock, they retreat in despair to the sensible plan of asking the University president to propose some impartial and competent engineers to find out.

BUT even so sensible a plan could not go through without cheap demagoguery. Two supervisors objected to the choice by President Campbell on the ground that the regents of the University of California are the creatures of the "interests," and that it has been impossible to get a labor man on the board.

EVEN if all this were true, it would have nothing to do with President Campbell, who is certainly nobody's creature, and would resign in an instant if anybody were stupid and impudent enough to try to exert any improper pressure on him. It is the President, not the Regents, who is asked to nominate the engineer.

BUT it is high time these repeated flings at the Regents of the University of California were resented, also. Some regents, to be sure, are rich men, but it does not follow that they are therefore wicked men. The man who has succeeded in life is not necessarily worse than the man who has failed. If no one of them is a "labor" man, it is because three generations in succession have refused to make such an appointment, though urgedly advised to do so by members of the Board of Regents. And certainly no bias of any Regent, for or against "labor," or anything else, has ever been reflected in the appointments or teachings of the University.

THE University of California has been peculiarly free from politics. The very independence of the regents, the fact that they serve practically for life, and that they are amenable to nobody, makes impossible the intrusion of politics unless they intrude it. And that they have not done, for nearly thirty years, is the thought, and the teaching of the University are free, in the fullest and finest sense, California could not remain free, if this were not so.

IF ANY demagogue wishes to assail the regents of the University, because some of them have money, that is his demagogue's license, in a country where speech is free even to the foolish. But wealth is a vice of which all are guilty, and the professors are innocent. And the University is the product of the freest thought and the best scholarship of its faculty, and of the vivid and aspiring life of its students. The highest responsibility of its regents is to respect and to safeguard this freedom.

Anti-Trust Film Inquiry Launched

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—An anti-trust inquiry into the motion picture organization headed by Will Hays was started today by the justice department, following receipt of a letter from Frank J. Bambrusch, head of the Motion Picture Theater Owners' Association of Indiana, which complained that the movie organization under Hays constitutes a trust.

Bambrusch alleged the Hays organization has a despotic control over the entire industry, controlling 95 per cent of the industry. Justice department officials said their inquiry would not be a "formal investigation."

President Vetoes Farm Relief Measure

BILL TO HELP AGRICULTURE IS REJECTED

Coolidge Refuses to Sign McNary-Haugen Act and Holds It Unconstitutional IN LENGTHY MESSAGE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—President Coolidge today vetoed the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill. The president, defying threats of farm leaders of dire political reprisals, refused to affix his signature to the agriculture aid measure, which he and members of his cabinet have consistently opposed.

Passage of the bill by congress placed Mr. Coolidge in the difficult position of having to offend one of two powerful groups—the farmers of the west or the financial interests of the east, the latter practically united in opposition to the measure.

The McNary-Haugen bill provided for a federal farm board of 12 members, at $10,000 a year each, to work with the secretary of agriculture in providing relief for farmers. The measure authorized appropriation of $250,000,000 as a revolving fund to finance relief measures and $500,000 for operating expenses the first year.

Loans From Revolving Fund
When an emergency was found to exist in any basic crop—cotton, wheat, corn, hogs, rice and tobacco—due to a surplus over domestic demands, the board would authorize loans of money from the revolving fund to co-operative organizations of farmers at 4 per cent. The co-operatives would pay farmers a "fair price" for their crops and withhold from the market enough of the crop to raise the price to the "fair" level. The farmer would be assessed a certain percentage of the crop—"The equalization fee"—which would be paid back into the revolving fund.

The president, in a lengthy veto message, held that the act was unconstitutional and attached an opinion of the attorney general to this effect.

"Many reasons exist for which the McNary-Haugen bill ought not to be approved, but it is impossible to state them without writing a book," said the message. "The most decisive one is that it is not constitutional."

Claims Bill Not Impartial
"Surely a real farm relief measure must be just and impartial and open the way for all farmers. Surely it must not contemplate, as this measure inescapably does, that farmers in some regions should be penalized for the benefit of those in other sections."

"It has been represented that this bill has been unanimously approved by our farmers. Several of our larger farm organizations have refused to support it and important minorities in the farm organizations refused to endorse it. It has protested to me against it."

The president, in his closing paragraph, suggested the passage of other farm legislation now before congress and again reviewed his recommendation that some conservative measure be passed.

Pressure Laid to Sympathy
The president said pressure for the bill had been primarily from sympathy for the farmers' distress, brought about by after-war speculation and collapse.

While conceding the huge amount of public opinion favoring the measure, the president expressed belief that the final judgment of American farmers would oppose the McNary-Haugen bill. "What the farmers want and the American people as a whole will approve is legislation which will not substitute governmental bureaucracy for individual and co-operative initiative, but will facilitate the constructive efforts of the farmers themselves in their own self-governed organization," the president said.

Measures Definitely Killed
President Coolidge's veto of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill definitely kills that measure and no effort will be made to pass it over his veto.

GOVERNOR IS HOPEFUL FOR SUCCESS OF BOULDER DAM MEASURE IN U. S. SENATE

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 25.—Governor Young today declared he was very hopeful of favorable action on the Boulder dam bill before congress, following receipt of a telegram from former Senator William J. Carr, of Pasadena.

The telegram stated that the California delegation lobbying for the bill felt there was "better than a strong possibility of getting a two-thirds vote on the cloture rule" tomorrow.

The governor announced that he was sending several telegrams to Washington in an effort to do everything possible to get a favorable vote.

"If the bill passes the senate, under the present attitude of the rules committee, there is little doubt that it will pass the house," said Governor Young.

The motion to invoke the cloture rule was the one thing to do to settle the matter. Otherwise, the bill undoubtedly would be talked to death. In all my experience in legislation, I have never heard of as clever work done in the interest of a bill as that done for the Boulder dam bill in Washington this week."

KEY CITY TO SHANGHAI IS SEIZED BY NATIONALISTS

SHANGHAI, Feb. 25.—Capture of Sunkiang, 30 miles south of Shanghai, by the Cantonese Nationalists, was reported here this afternoon. Efforts to verify the report had been unsuccessful so far. Sunkiang is the last of the northern strongholds lying between the Cantonese and this city.

British troops were massed in a line of defense around the foreign settlement here at noon today.

French, Japanese and Italian forces were declared to be co-operating with the British in Shanghai, ready to move into position at the sign of danger. American marines had not landed, but were awaiting developments aboard U. S. warships in the harbor.

Consul Announces Capture
The Japanese consul general here, who usually has reliable information, announced the capture of Sunkiang. Police and civil authorities here were without information.

The British forces advanced their defenses to the boundary of the foreign settlement during the morning and at noon batteries of light artillery and detachments of infantry were in position.

Police were guarding the gates. The precautions were ordered while the city was filled with the troops of Chang Chung Chang, streaming through on their way to Sunkiang, where they were replacing troops of Sun Chuan Fang. Sun apparently has relinquished his position as controller of Shanghai.

Prepares for Co-operation
"Chang Tso Lin was understood to be prepared to co-operate with Chang Chung Chang."

American troops have been ordered, if they are landed, not to resist armed Chinese forces except inside the foreign settlement, and then only in defense of Americans.

All Americans were expected to remain inside the settlement if trouble occurs.

No details of fighting at Sunkiang had been received here, but Marshal Sun Chang Fang's retreating troops were reported to be straggling into the outskirts of Shanghai.

British forces were ready for a fight, with defenses fully established. A line of troops was thrown around the foreign settlement.

M'MURRAY JOINS IN WARNING GENERALS
WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—American Minister MacMurray has joined with the Peking diplomatic corps in a curt warning to Chinese civil war generals to respect the neutrality of the Shanghai international settlement. Otherwise foreign authorities will act to protect foreigners there, the state department announced today.

American Consul General Lockhart reported today a general strike at Hankow, in protest against British troops at Shanghai, and allegedly against the northern militarists.

CRAZED FILM MAN TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

Lynn F. Reynolds Commits Suicide Following Fight During Gay Dinner Party

JUST RETURNS HOME
Name of Renee Adoree Is Jokingly Injected in New Rift in Cinema Circles

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25.—Lynn F. Reynolds, well known motion picture director, died here today from a bullet wound in his brain, self-inflicted, police say, following a fit of despondency, brought on after he had been marooned for several weeks in the mountains by a snowstorm.

The director died in the receiving hospital, never having regained consciousness since late last night, when he fired a shot into his head, following a quarrel in the midst of a dinner party at his home.

A joking remark concerning Renee Adoree, French film star, precipitated a quarrel that ended in the death of Reynolds.

Jokes On Lunch Sharing
"I supposed you shared your lunch with Miss Adoree," Mrs. Reynolds is alleged to have laughingly remarked to her husband at a home coming party last night following his return from a location trip in the High Sierras.

"That is a lie," Reynolds is alleged to have retorted and flew into a rage when the director, knocked his wife to the floor and shot himself through the brain, according to police reports.

The argument occurred during a dinner, in which the Reynolds' were entertaining two guests.

Mrs. Reynolds formerly was Kathleen O'Conner, also a film actress until three years ago, when she gave up professional work for her time.

Reynolds returned last night from the mountains at Mammoth, where the company had been snowbound for 10 days during the production of "Back to God's Country," a picture starring Miss Adoree.

The wife of the director, known in the film world as "the girl with the dreamy eyes," had prepared a homecoming party for her husband and invited Mr. and Mrs. William H. White to the affair.

According to a sworn statement made by Mrs. Reynolds to District Attorney Asa Keyes she received a telegram from her husband from Bishop asking her to arrange a "big party," as he was coming home. When the director arrived, he was angered because the party only included the White family.

On Verge of Breakdown
"When he opened the door, I saw that he was apparently on the verge of a nervous breakdown. He stared at me and became sullen and angry at both myself and our guests," Mrs. Reynolds said.

A bitter struggle preceded the shooting, according to statements made to police, in which Mrs. Reynolds was backed to the floor and her eyes lashed by the blow. Furniture was overturned and vile language used by Reynolds.

In his statement to police, White said: "As a treat to Lynn, knowing he liked Manhattan cocktails, I took over a real bottle of rare stuff. I think we had three each, not more than three, and then dinner was served."

"Previous to going into the dining room, Lynn was extremely nervous. He explained that his company had been under heavy expense as the result of being snowbound," White said.

"The argument began when

FIVE WORKMEN BURN TO DEATH IN OIL TANK FIRE

HEARNE, Tex., Feb. 25.—While dozens of fellow workers made frantic efforts to rescue them, five men were burned to death in an oil tank near here last night. Six men were cleaning out a 55,000-barrel oil tank on the Humble Oil company tank farm, when the fire, believed to have been started by a blow torch, trapped them. Doc Williams escaped through a man hole, which closed and

DIAZ PROPOSAL FOR U. S. NICARAGUAN PROTECTORATE FINALLY BROUGHT IN OPEN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The Diaz Nicaraguan government's proposal for an American protectorate was brought into the open today for the first time, when the Nicaraguan legation here announced details of the proposed "treaty of alliance" between the two countries. Under the Diaz proposal, Nicaragua would be guaranteed, according to President Diaz, "the uninterrupted maintenance of a government adequate for protection of life, property and individual liberty."

The United States, on the other hand, would be assured of its rights to a Nicaraguan canal and naval base, arranged under the Bryan-Chamorro treaty, and would have the right from Nicaragua "to intervene in Nicaragua whenever it might be necessary in order to make effective the guarantees effective above."

British Action Displeasing
The U. S. government is surprised and displeased over Great Britain's sudden dispatch of a warship to Nicaragua.

In the interest of Anglo-American relations, the state department will not express this displeasure formally unless British troops are landed.

Meanwhile officials hope the British naval commander will decide, after arrival at Corinto, on February 26, that the United States is affording adequate protection to British interests, and that his ship is not needed.

Interpretation of Attitude
Britain's action is interpreted in some quarters here as connected with the negotiations between the Diaz government and the United States for an American protectorate over Nicaragua.

Great Britain, with 1500 citizens there and larger property holdings than the United States, is described as reluctant to accept the protectorate plan.

Views of President
President Coolidge thinks a line should be drawn between the action of Great Britain in sending a warship to Nicaragua and landing of forces, the White House spokesman said today. This government has usually objected, if it feared any foreign government as taking action toward occupying Latin American countries, it was said.

But this government must object to a British ship sent there to receive possible refugees. The president feels it has not been customary or necessary for European nations in the past to send forces to such territory, but he understands that the British do not intend to land, it was said.

The White House emphasized that American forces are affording protection to British lives and property.

"Spasmodic" American intervention in Nicaragua had failed to remedy fundamental ills, so he proposed a constabulary under American direction to replace present Nicaraguan and U. S. forces.

SENATE APPROVES CASH FOR CRUISERS
WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Without objection, the senate today approved the house appropriation of $500,000 for construction of three naval cruisers. The senate adopted the conference report, which diminished the $1,200,000 appropriation it previously had adopted. The action of the senate completed congressional consideration of the naval appropriation bill and it now goes to the president for signature.

Von Elm, Neville Texas Finalists
HOUSTON, Tex., Feb. 25.—George Von Elm, national amateur golf champion, and Jack Neville, five times winner of the California state title, will meet tomorrow in the 35 hole final of the Houston Country club's invitation tournament.

Von Elm defeated Reuben Albaugh, San Antonio, 5 and 4, in the semi-finals and Neville defeated Tom Gregory, Houston, 3 and 2.

Cloture Is Asked On Buildings Bill
WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—A petition for cloture on the $125,000,000 public buildings bill was presented to the senate last today by Senator Lenroot, Republican, Wisconsin. It will be voted on at 1 p. m. Monday.

Estimated Cost of System
Senator Breed explained that completion of the state highway system can be made possible only through such a bill. It will bring, he estimated, $10,000,000 a year in revenue, which will be augmented annually by $2,700,000 in federal aid, giving approximately $12,700,000 to complete the system in 10 years.

Following its afternoon session, the legislature's water conservation committee decided to ask Attorney General U. S. Webb for a speedy decision on the legality of the state's sale to Stephen E. Kieffer, of San Francisco, of a 540-acre tract at Folsom for $150,000, to build an irrigation and hydro-electric dam.

Rapid progress in organization of committees is being made by the legislature, and the close of the first week's session today found

ARCHAIC RULE IS EMPLOYED IN QUANDARY

Members Flounder Out of Parliamentary Difficulty And Take Up Buildings VOTE ON CLOTURE DUE

Proposal to Limit Debate On Boulder to Be Considered Saturday P. M.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—By use of an archaic rule, the senate today floundered out of a legislative dilemma and gave the right of way to the $125,000,000 public buildings bill without displacing the Boulder canyon dam measure—center of the bitterest battle of recent years.

A rule was discovered whereby the senate took up the buildings bill on motion by Senator Lenroot, Republican, Wisconsin, with the understanding nothing could prevent a vote upon cloture for Boulder dam at 1 p. m. tomorrow.

A half dozen actual and incipient filibusters swirling in and around the dramatic fight over Boulder dam legislation today threw the senate into a fighting, snarling division of groups scrambling for action in pet measures before adjournment next Friday.

Session Ends in Week
With but one week to go before conclusion of the short session, the legislative situation developed into a free-for-all, with almost anything likely to eventuate.

The Boulder dam is apparently safe until 1 p. m. tomorrow, when the senate will vote on a cloture motion proposing limitation of debate to break the filibuster which has held that measure inert for seven successive days.

But senators with frayed nerves and irritated tempers are constantly maneuvering for position upon the public buildings bill, the alien property bill, prohibition measures and several resolutions which may or may not get through before final adjournment.

Supporters Not Pleased
The situation of the Johnson-Swing bill for construction of a $125,000,000 power and flood control dam at Boulder canyon into the Colorado river is, by no means, pleasing to its proponents. A check by the United Press indicated that half the senate is in doubt as to how it will vote upon the cloture motion tomorrow, and probably will not decide until it is seen what parliamentary situation develops at the moment.

Senators Ashurst, Democrat, and Cameron, Republican, Arizona, who have been leading the filibuster against the measure, declared they believed they had enough votes to beat the cloture petition. "I am convinced more than one-third of the senate will oppose such drastic action," Ashurst said.

Senator Hiram Johnson, Republican, California, was not optimistic, but he has never been since he began his single-handed fight and developed strength enough to hold the senate in continuous session for 30 hours, beating off all movements to displace his bill. Johnson himself and most of his strongest supporters in this fight have always been opposed to cloture and many senators will leave the chamber or vote against him on that particular issue.

Johnson Lucky During Fight
It is conceded that if Johnson squeaked through a two-thirds majority for the cloture petition, he will be lucky—but he has been extremely lucky all during the fight.

The dries are working eagerly to sandwich in the Andrews prohibition reauthorization bill, but Senator Edwards, Democrat, New Jersey, vet. has a speech which he conservatively estimates will "last two or three days." The Tyson emergency officers' retirement bill faces the same kind of opposition.

Senator Reed, Pennsylvania, Republican, says he will take the first opportunity to force up the alien property bill, although there is considerable objection to it in several quarters.

Accuses Power Companies
Private power companies are responsible for the delay in action on the Swing-Johnson Boulder dam bill, Representative Taylor, Democrat, Colorado, charged in a speech in the house today.

He reminded the house that representatives of the power companies appeared before the irrigation committees and opposed construction of the power plants by the government.

"They told the committee frankly," Taylor said, "that they did not want the bill passed with the provision for government sale of the power at the switch board. These same power interests have prevented complete ratification of the seven-state compact and passage of this bill."

GASOLINE TAX BILL OCCUPIES STATE SOLONS

Both Houses of California Legislature Adjourn For Week End

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 25.—The California state legislature adjourned at 12 o'clock today, completing its first week of the present session.

The assembly passed the resolution, approved by the senate yesterday, memorializing congress to provide a retirement fund for disabled army officers of the World war, on the same basis as that provided for sailors and marines.

The resolution will go to Governor Young today for signature.

(By United Press)
SACRAMENTO, Feb. 25.—The Arthur H. Breed gasoline tax bill occupied the limelight of the state legislature today, as the two bodies met for brief sessions and adjourned until Monday.

That the highway financing bill, designed to bring harmony between northern and Southern California, may be blocked by civil war in the southern ranks, was indicated at the committee hearing last night, in which the bill was made a special order of business for Monday.

San Diego Asks Delay
Although San Diego county asked for the delay, through Senator Edwin Mueller, that county is not alone in looking at the measure with alarm. Senator Cadet Taylor, of Pomona, hinted that several of the citrus counties were slightly suspicious of the bill, although none was definitely committed against it.

San Diego county, Senator Mueller explained, is keenly interested in the construction of the San Diego-Yuma highway through El Centro as one of the "primary" highways under the new bill. Also, it wants to be assured that Los Angeles won't be enabled to "hog" the road money when it is apportioned.

Estimated Cost of System
Senator Breed explained that completion of the state highway system can be made possible only through such a bill. It will bring, he estimated, $10,000,000 a year in revenue, which will be augmented annually by $2,700,000 in federal aid, giving approximately $12,700,000 to complete the system in 10 years.

GAS TAX MEASURE OCCUPIES SOLONS

a number of important bills voted out of committee, while dates for hearings were set for many others.

Four Voted to Pass

Four measures were voted "do pass" by the senate public health and quarantine committee, including the bill by Senator H. C. Jones, of San Jose, providing that the state board of health establish and maintain a bureau of public health nursing. The others were amendments to existing laws. The senate education committee passed out the bill providing for a commission to codify the laws relating to public schools and ordered it referred to the finance committee. The measure for a commission to study juvenile delinquency ran into opposition and action was delayed. Senator Roy Fellom's bill providing for education of deaf children will be given a hearing Thursday night.

Anti-Syndicalism Hearing

Senator Fellom has set Monday for a hearing of the anti-syndicalism law, which he proposed to amend. Another important meeting Monday night will be a public hearing on compulsory automobile insurance, while a third will be a public hearing on the fruit and vegetable standardization bills.

Senator C. C. Baker, of Salinas, chairman of the senate committee on revision of criminal law and procedure, has announced that a public hearing at which the committee of both houses will have charge will be held within a short time to take up the sixty odd bills sponsored by the crime commission.

PRESIDENT VETOES FARM RELIEF BILL

as the president's message of veto came to the senate.

The political reaction to the veto was strong. Farm bloc members contended Mr. Coolidge has forfeited his chance for the presidency or "surrendered to the industrial east so he can run again." Opponents of the measure said he took the only course open to him.

Because "youthful typists are seldom strong on spelling and have a multiplicity of other than business affairs on their minds," no woman stenographer under 30 years of age is to be employed by the Canadian parliament in its legislative halls.

CATHEDRAL IN WASHINGTON IS NEARLY BUILT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The century-old dream of a national Temple of Faith in the capital is coming true.

Crowning Mount St. Albans, one of the highest points in the District of Columbia and a magnificent site for the purpose, the apex of the Cathedral of Saints Peter and Paul, better known as the National Cathedral, already is plainly visible as far away as the capitol.

When completed, about five years from now, the cathedral will command a panorama of the entire capital and is expected to be the most distinguished example of Gothic architecture in the world. Planned by the celebrated English architect, the late George F. Bodley, and his American associate, the late Henry Vaughan, its main tower will rise 262 feet from the crest of Mount St. Albans, a 400-foot elevation, and will be supported by four largest pillars of solid masonry in the world, being 24 feet, two inches in diameter at the base.

The National Cathedral foundation, of which the Rev. James E. Freeman, Episcopal bishop of Washington, is president, and Canon Edward Slater Dunlap is field secretary, aspires to make the cathedral the Westminster Abbey of America. Although only the apex, the gift of the late Mrs. Archibald D. Russell in memory of her mother, Mrs. Percy R. Tyne, has been completed, more than 200,000 pilgrims and visitors last year entered Bethlehem chapel, situated in its crypt, which already contains the tombs of Woodrow Wilson and Admiral George Dewey.

Plan Revived in 1893

The first suggestion that such a cathedral be built in the national capital was made during the early days of the republic by Maj. Pierre Charles L'Enfant while he was working on his far-seeing plan of the city. George Washington gave the idea enthusiastic support, but it remained dormant for a century. Then, in 1893, Charles C. Glover, chairman of the board of Riggs National bank, assembled a small group of other laymen at his home and revived the project, obtained a charter from congress, and set out to build the $10,000,000 structure now under way.

The charter empowered the Protestant Episcopal Cathedral foundation of the District of Columbia to establish and maintain a "cathedral and institutions of learning for the promotion of religion, education and charity," and provided that the crypts might be used as a place of sepulchre for the nation's honored dead.

The cathedral is being built in the form of a cross, the arms of which will be the north and south transepts. It will be 500 feet long and 135 feet wide, and will be constructed throughout of Indiana limestone, no steel being used because of its tendency to become brittle with age. Seats will be provided in the main chamber for 7500 worshippers, while on occasions of national rejoicing, 20,000 can be accommodated.

Three chapels in crypts. Three chapels will be situated in the crypts. In addition to Bethlehem chapel, now in use for services daily throughout the year, there will be a "Chapel of the Resurrection" and a "Chapel of Joseph of Arimathea." The latter will be a funeral chapel available to families identified with the army, navy, diplomatic and other government services who have no permanent residences or church affiliations in Washington.

The mighty cross of the completed cathedral will dominate a partly wooded site of 67 1/2 acres, the acquisition of which was the life work of the late Dr. Henry Yates Satterlee, the first bishop of Washington. A scheme of landscaping, recalling the English gardens of the 14th century, is being developed in the unwooded spaces. Cedars of Lebanon, Bokwood and rare shrubbery are under careful cultivation.

Within the cathedral close are the bishop's home, given by Mrs. Susan Evelyn Murray, and in line with the educational provision of the charter, two schools, in addition to a great stone peace cross dedicated by President McKinley at the end of the Spanish-American war. The school for girls was the gift of the late Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, and one for boys was made possible by Mrs. Harriet Lane Johnston, niece of President Buchanan, in memory of her two sons.

For the interior of the cathedral an impressive program of sculpture and mural paintings, depicting the story of Christianity, is planned. The symbolic motif will be carried out on the walls and ceilings of the nave and transepts and the three chapels. Already an exquisitely carved stone pulpit, presented by the archbishop, dean and chapter of Canterbury cathedral in England, is awaiting completion of the structure to be placed permanently in the nave. At present, it is being used in Bethlehem chapel.

Since the charter was obtained in 1893, about $6,000,000 has been received by the cathedral foundation, and the names of more than 25,000 individuals who have made gifts or bequests to it have been entered in a "Book of Remembrance." John A. Kasson, former minister to Austria, is credited with the largest single gift, $500,000. The "Book of Remembrance" eventually will be preserved in a special niche.

Australia Mints Special Coin As Canberra Honor

LONDON, Feb. 25.—The commonwealth of Australia has caused commemorative the opening of parliament to be struck to honor at Canberra May 9. It has been designed by the royal mint in London and will be put in circulation on the day of the ceremony, simultaneously in all the Australian capitals.

PICTURE DIRECTOR COMMITS SUICIDE

Lynn made some remark about the wonderful basket lunches Mrs. Reynolds prepared for him when he departed on a location trip. When Mrs. Reynolds laughingly accused him of sharing the lunches with Miss Adoree, Lynn became very angry.

Argument Grows Bitter

"The argument grew bitter and they began to shout at each other, Lynn using vile language and finally threatening to kill his wife and himself.

According to the statements of all three witnesses, Mrs. Reynolds threw a cigaret tray at her husband, missing him. It fell in a bowl of cottage cheese and splattered over the table.

Reynolds left the room and his wife followed him, according to White. Reynolds is alleged to have struck his wife and knocked her to the floor at this point.

"In the den, he got a revolver and threatened her," White said. "She was down on the floor in front of him and he began questioning her."

According to Mrs. White, when she entered the room, Reynolds pointed the gun at her and said: "Don't you butt into this," and waved the gun in her face.

Then Shoots Himself

Reynolds then turned the gun upon himself and fell to the floor fatally wounded. He died in the receiving hospital at 8:35 a. m.

Reynolds had reached the apex of his career as a motion picture director and his death cut short production on what was to have been his greatest directorial effort, "Back to God's Country," starring Renee Adoree.

Reynolds was born in Harlan, Ia., 1889, but spent most of his youth in Denver, where he went to school. He began his professional career as a newspaper reporter, but, in 1911, left the San Francisco Call to take up a career on the stage. He appeared in stock companies in Denver and later played opposite Maude Adams.

Reynolds came to Hollywood in 1913 and entered the motion picture industry, making comedies for Universal. He was also well known for his efforts as a scenario writer and wrote as well as directed, Hoot Gibson's last three pictures. He was a member of the Motion Picture Directors' association and a prominent clubman.

MISS ADOREE IS AT LOSS TO EXPLAIN

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 25.—Informed of the alleged dispute which preceded the suicide of Lynn F. Reynolds, motion picture director, Renee Adoree, film star, was at a loss to explain why her name had been mentioned in reports of the affair.

"I knew Mr. Reynolds only as the director of the company which is starring me," the actress said. "He never spoke of his personal affairs, and I had no reason to know of his troubles.

"We got back from location yesterday, and the members of the company separated. That is all I knew until I heard the terrible news. All I can say is I am sorry," she said.

Rock Wall Built Many Years Ago Found In Shale

HOT SPRINGS, S. D., Feb. 25.—A wall of rock, symmetrically put together with mortar, has been discovered in a bank of shale, about 40 miles north of Hot Springs. It is believed to be the remnant of a structure erected centuries ago, in the days of a civilization far different from that of the present day.

The owner of the shale bank, C. H. Reich, happened to be turning over some of the shale a few years ago when he came across an odd-shaped rock, suggesting the shaping of it for some definite purpose. He dug a little more in the same spot and found another rock underneath of similar appearance, the two being about four feet long and eight inches wide. Reich was interested but went no farther in his exploration.

Happening to mention the matter to a friend, Donald Crabtree, who has made something of a study of archeology, Crabtree at once became interested and volunteered to go on with the excavating. Before long, digging in the loose shale, he had exposed what is apparently a wall, 10 feet in depth, and found that it extends still lower. The symmetrical oblong blocks of stone are set together with mortar and are laid in the fashion of bricks.

A little distance from this wall Mr. Crabtree has discovered a piece of work which is without doubt a floor, the stones being set in the same regular way. This was discovered through the fact that a cow path had worn down a track that left a few of the stones exposed.

Sulphur Mining Gives New Life To Nevada Town

WINNEMUCCA, Nev., Feb. 25.—Sulphur, a little station on the Western Pacific railroad near here, is soon to become the nation's production center for the valuable chemical from which the town derives its name.

With sulphur deposits in Louisiana and Texas, from which the nation has been drawing its principal supply for many years, practically exhausted, engineers and chemists are turning toward Nevada to meet demands. Nevada has mammoth deposits, sufficient to meet the enormous needs of the market for years to come, survey disclosed.

Girl Proves Up On Desert Land In Mono County

SAN JOSE, Feb. 25.—Eileen Young, pretty titan-haired San Jose society girl, announced to her friends at a house party a few years ago that she was going to take up a homestead in the wild Mono lake country. Her friends told her she couldn't or wouldn't endure the privations of such a primitive existence. She'd miss her country club dances and other society affairs, they said.

Recently, Miss Young proved up on her claim, located on a lonely plateau, between the Mojave desert and a steep range of mountains which cut her off from the inhabited part of the Mono country. Her nearest neighbors were Indians and a trip to the nearest town meant hours of riding along trails which were passable only on horseback.

"My friends gave me three weeks to stay," she said, "but I completed my three years, necessary to prove up on the claim, and now I own a 690-acre ranch."

WIG-MAKING ART WANES IN PARIS

PARIS, Feb. 25.—The art of wig-making will soon be lost, according to the wig-makers of Paris, because of prohibitive prices. In spite of the large quantity of hair which has fallen under the shears since the vogue of the bob and the shingle, hair has remained at such a high price that the wig can scarcely be sold, once it is made. A good one can scarcely be sold for less than 20,000 francs.

"Hair that has been washed, perfumed and brillianized is not what we need either," explain the wig-makers. "What we want, but can't get, is the hair of the peasants, and that of the women of Brittany is the best. But, que voulez-vous? The Americans buy all of that and take it home with them."

"I never saw so many beautiful women in my life as in America," declared the screen artist, Arletta Marchal, upon her return from a period of work at Hollywood.

"Of course one might expect that in filmland where I was most of the time, but I saw them in New York as well; in fact, everywhere, and nearly everyone of them better dressed than our much-talked about Parisienne. However, I do believe the French girls have more distinctive personalities. The Americans are all very much alike and dress so much the same that one thinks he is seeing twins or triplets all over." Mademoiselle Marchal said the hardest thing she had to do on the other side of the pond was to convince people that she really was French, because she is so tall. She found that all Americans believed the French girl to be uniformly petite.

JAPANESE NAVY WILL TOUR WORLD

TOKIO, Feb. 25.—A circumnavigation of the globe is being planned for this year's naval training squadron, which will sail from Yokosuka early in May with the 1927 graduates of the naval academy, the naval engineering and paymaster's training schools.

Vice Admiral Taro Ito, who will command the squadron consisting of the cruisers Iwate and Asama. An official appointment is expected to be made shortly. The ships will sail across the Pacific, touching at Hawaii on the way, pass through the Panama canal and enter the Atlantic. After visiting a number of American ports, the vessels will sail for England, stop at several French and Italian ports and sail into the Indian ocean. They will also touch India, French Indo-China and China.

For several years, the Japanese training squadrons have not made a complete world tour. Last year's training ships, the Yakumo and Izumi, sailed from Yokosuka and visited the South Seas, Europe, Africa and Australasia.

Hoax Succeeds as Thousands Cheer

GLASGOW, Feb. 25.—Thirty thousand people gathered at the wharves here as the result of an announcement in a college paper that Miss Anne Dapenny had left New York for Glasgow to swim across the Atlantic and was due that day at noon. The throng grew until it blocked all traffic when a small boat containing a bag-piper and a crew of three appeared. Behind it swam "Miss Dapenny," who was one of the men students at the school. "The swim was easy as soon as I got through the rum fleet off the American coast," he said.

More than $12,000,000 worth of musical instruments are sold annually in foreign countries by American manufacturers.

It says in the Book that "the rain falls on the just and unjust alike." And while it's raining I have spent a great deal of time figuring, along with my income tax, "just" what class I'm in, and now I have come to the conclusion that it's "just" as good as it was.

Weather Legends Called Baseless

BERKELEY, Feb. 25.—Ancient superstitions about the connection between the moon and the weather have been exploded as having no basis in fact by Prof. William F. Meyer, of the astronomy department, University of California.

Many legends and notions concerning the moon's effect on weather, several of the most interesting sponsored by the Indians, have been handed down from generation to generation and all have been scientifically investigated, said Professor Meyer. Records kept for the last 100 years show that there is no relation between the moon and the weather, he declared.

Little Maid's Birthday Is Celebrated with Washington Party

The sixth birthday of little Miss Billy-Ruth Latham was celebrated at a George Washington party yesterday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Latham, 842 Riverline avenue.

A succession of merry games entertained the children, one of the most amusing being a crackering contest on the lawn, in which Patsy Heninger and Fred Groom took prizes. Mrs. H. Gill assisted Mrs. Latham in directing the games and contests.

Picture taking was an interesting feature, and all the youngsters are now looking forward to seeing the snap-shots for which they posed. Just preceding the refreshment hour, Billy-Ruth was told to take her place in the middle of the living-room floor, where she was showered with pretty gifts brought by her playmates.

All were then directed to the dining-room where the table was sparkling with flags and pink roses. A large birthday cake bore six pink candles. Soldier boy lollipops standing in red apples made clever favors for each child, while individual cakes with waving flags were placed on the flag-decked napkins.

Enjoying the occasion with Billy-Ruth were her brother and sister, Jack and Helen Latham, Ralph and Robert Gill, Fay and Loraine Shields, Dan Leatha Minter, Lila Maria Moore, Corine Hill, Fred and Estella Groom, Jimmy Garrett, Elizabeth Jane Jones, Derinda Bonner, Marcella and Norma Lou Matheson, Patsy Heninger, Verna Maria Osborn, Ruby Bell Williams, Homer and Gladys Moore, Jessie May and Lois Archibald.

Mothers present were the hostesses, Mrs. Latham, Mrs. Gill, Mrs. J. D. Garrett, Mrs. G. B. Groom, Mrs. A. G. Shields, Mrs. Earl Jones and Mrs. George Moore.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

The postponed meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the First M. E. church was held Tuesday afternoon in the church parlors where Mrs. Laura Brancey conducted devotionals on the theme "The more light, the more the gospel spreads."

In the business session, an affecting tribute to the late Miss Jessie Millar was presented by Mrs. Horton Palmer who told of Miss Millar's work as recording secretary and the splendid reports she gave of different conventions she attended as a delegate.

A letter was read from the society's missionary, Miss Doris Welles of India. Mrs. Jesse Albright sang "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say" with Mrs. James Hughes as accompanist. The members pledged five dollars each for the missionaries retirement fund, also Miss Millar was made a memorial member and $15 raised for the same.

The lesson was given by Mrs. A. J. Lasby, from the study book, "Moses' Women" from which we learned that the gospel is spreading the world over. Mrs. Albert Steward gave a most interesting talk on the people of China, where Mr. Steward is a missionary. They work in a boys' university at Nanking. She pointed out how very much in love with the missionaries are the people they are sent to teach and serve. The Stewards invite groups of native boys to their home, and at such times teach them.

Announcement was made that the next meeting would be with Mrs. Horace White of Tustin and a committee to arrange for transportation will be composed of Mesdames Burns, Palmer, McLeod, Leonard, Beemer, Peo, Hill and Robinson. The society's thank offering service will be conducted next Sunday morning with the pastor, the Rev. Charles Seitter, to give the address.

The session closed with the Lord's prayer repeated in unison.

DR. F. H. HENRY CHIROPRACTOR

Mrs. L. E. Williams and Mrs. H. Barr of the First Christian Aid society were co-hostesses at a delightful "triplicate tea" Wednesday afternoon given in the Barr home, 1403 South Ross street.

The guests entertained needlework and chat during the afternoon hours, and at tea time, were served the most delectable homemade cherry pie with whipped cream and coffee, by the hostesses.

Those gathered for the friendly party were Mrs. James Smith, Mrs. E. A. Cox, Mrs. C. E. Price, Mrs. H. E. Stuessey, Mrs. J. H. Chambliss, Mrs. Roy Butler and son, Junior, Mrs. Fred Seifert and son, "Billy-Boy."

Several more links of the chain will be in evidence during the next week or so as other hostesses do their part in making the clever tea idea a success.

In Bell Home

The pretty home of Mrs. Fleetwood Bell at 2015 North Broadway, was rendezvous for a group of First Christian Aid society members meeting for one of the popular triplicate teas, with Mrs. Bell and Mrs. L. A. Hill as hostesses.

The usual lively chat was an accompaniment to needlework and at the tea hour, Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Hill, with the assistance of the former's mother, Mrs. William Wagner, served an appetizing refreshment menu.

Those entertained, included Mrs. W. B. Williams, Mrs. C. F. Skirvin, Mrs. Sexton, Mrs. Hansler and her house-guest, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. R. M. Harris, Mrs. Isabelle Tucker, Mrs. Haskell and Miss Carrie Seaton.

Young Women's F. M. S.

The February meeting of the Young Women's Foreign Missionary society of the First M. E. church was made occasion for the

Sunday Concert Series To Be Presented by Orchestra

It is frequently asserted that vespers services bear more charm than any other musical feature, which is probably why the Santa Ana Symphony orchestra plan to offer a series of Sunday afternoon sacred concerts is meeting with such approval and interest among friends and patrons of that musical organization.

All are awaiting the first of the series, which will be given in the Ebell auditorium, next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, to be followed by three others, given on alternate Sundays over a period of eight weeks, the dates falling on February 27, March 13, March 27 and April 10.

It is the plan of the management to present a well-known soloist in connection with each concert, and at the initial event the guest artist will be Lambert Baker, Los Angeles baritone, whose rich voice has delighted Santa Anas on many previous occasions. He has sung here on various occasions, notably as soloist in the annual presentation of "The Messiah" by the vested choir of the First Methodist Episcopal church, and also in the choir's offering of the "Elijah." He is a son-in-law of the former pastor of the church, the Rev. Will A. Betts.

The orchestra numbers for the concert Sunday afternoon, will open with the overture, "La Dame Blanche" by Boieldieu and continue with "Hungarian Dance, No. 5," Brahms; "Spanish Dance, No. 1," Moszkowsky; "Unfinished Symphony," Schubert; "Waltz, 'Dolores,'" Waldteuffel, and as a finale, a selection from Verdi's opera, "Aida."

Season tickets for the course of four concerts, are now on sale at a low price, at the Santa Ana bookstore, or single admission tickets may be purchased. The extremely low price asked, is merely to aid in meeting the expenses connected with presenting the series, as the idea back of the concerts is not one of gain, but one of giving music lovers an opportunity to hear the city's own orchestral organization.

Few cities the size of Santa Ana can boast so finished an orchestra, and it has been declared to be of untold value to the youth of the community, as an aid in forming their cultural tastes. Much of the orchestra personnel is made up of youthful musicians who are receiving incalculable benefit from the training, in addition to giving enjoyment and benefit to the community as a whole.

D. C. Cianfoni, founder and head of the Santa Ana Conservatory of Music, is director of the orchestra, while D. Eymann Huff of the Hewes ranch corporation is president, and Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh, one of the county's favorite soloists, is business manager.

Weekly Dances at St. Ann's Inn

Rapidly coming to the fore as one of the week's most popular entertainment features, the Friday night dances at St. Ann's Inn are gaining a patronage that is gratifying to the management and to the Carr Brothers' orchestra which is sponsoring the dances.

The orchestra is one that formerly was featured at the Cindrella Roof in Los Angeles and furnishes music that is quite irresistible to dancers. It has become quite the thing to plan informal little "Dutch treat" parties to meet at the Inn and dance the Friday evening hours away.

The crowd is growing in point of numbers each week, with many out-of-town patrons to share in the enjoyment. An even larger crowd than usual is expected tonight, and the attractive festoons of red, white and blue, placed in the Inn for the Washington birthday celebration, will be left in place to add color and gaiety to the scene.

Little Son Born on Washington's Birthday

Washington's birthday will always have a deeper significance to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Neer, 217 Hickory street, for it will henceforth be celebrated also as the birthday of the little son of the home, Master Warren Henry Neer, whose advent on February 22, 1927, was a memorable event.

Master Warren is a lusty young man and tips the scales at 7 pounds. His arrival will be of special interest to the many friends to whom his mother, the former Mrs. Abigail A. Day, brought comfort and ease in her duties as trained nurse.

MUSIC RECITAL

The Juvenile Music club met Saturday, February 19, at the home of Mrs. Harold Nelson. Over 30 members and guests were present. The club charter was voted on and an excellent program was presented by pupils of Mrs. Hamill, Ollinae Enlow Matthews, Miss Isaacson, Ione Peek, Carolyn Haughton, Mrs. Hurd and Miss Marchant.

Pupils of Miss Mildred Marchant gave a play, "The Childhood of Handel," costume. The minutes as danced in Mozart's time was given under the direction of Mrs. Wolff.

The program was under the direction of Mrs. Jay C. Hamill and was illustrative of the time of Handel, Haydn and Mozart. The next program will be under the direction of Miss Leona Tompkins and will be at the home of De Mont Stever on March 19. The subject will be "Music in the Time of Schumann and Schubert."

Forty members were present and each contributed something to the pot-luck supper menu which was most enjoyable. The remainder of the evening was given over to the guest of honor, Miss Olive Kennard who is spending a year's furlough from her missionary duties in India, with relatives in Redlands.

It is to Miss Kennard's station that the society sends many of its Christmas boxes and other gifts and the members were interested in learning whether choice of gifts had always proven wise, and if not, what manner of offerings might be preferred. They were very interested and pleased to learn that their things had always been most acceptable and highly appreciated by the natives.

An interesting feature of the business session conducted by the society president, Miss Gertrude Richardson, was the fact that devotional songs were given in four languages, in Hindustani; Mrs. Albert Steward, in Chinese; Mrs. Benito Garcia in Spanish and Mrs. Charles Seitter, in English.

The remainder of the evening was given over to Miss Kennard who in addition to her interesting talk, displayed many beautiful native costumes, elaborately embroidered, a number of prayer idols and other curious both odd and fascinating.

Ebell Society

Members of Ebell Sixth section household economics held their February meeting at the clubhouse where the hostesses, Mrs. Frank Paterson, Mrs. E. C. Nelson and Mrs. P. A. Robinson served a delicious New England luncheon. Patriotic colors were used in the decorations and the hostesses were charming in colonial costume.

The history of the organization of the section was reviewed at the table and the members were told at that time delectable luncheons were served for the sum of 15 cents each. All were eager to learn of what the menus consisted and the cost of the items, of which records had been preserved and were read. This subject might well have been entitled, "Then and Now."

After the business session roll call was responded to by many helpful and instructive discussions.

Mrs. Gardner gave a report of the California Conference of Social Work, which she recently attended and at which 1465 delegates were present. This section holds a membership.

The next meeting of the sixth section will be held March 18, with Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Smart and Mrs. Baumgartner as hostesses.

Twenty members and three visitors, Mrs. M. R. Reynolds, Mrs. Earl and Mrs. Mills, were present. Mrs. Mills was made a member to fill the vacancy left when Mrs. Herbert Sammis went to San Diego to live.

Varied Programs Will Be Presented on Concert Course

Patrons of the P-T-A. concert course will be especially interested in one feature of the series of attractions to be presented in the high school auditorium, and that is the thoughtfulness for the welfare of student patrons, which dictated the choice of Friday night for the various performances in every case save one, and that is the Charles Wakefield Cadman—James Murray feature which was booked for Thursday night instead.

This choice was deliberate, since it was believed that students would be eager to avail themselves of the opportunity to hear such artists as will be presented, and yet might find it impossible were the attractions to be presented on nights when studies and next day class-work might be too exacting in their demands.

Grace Wood Jess and her quartette costumed program of readings and folk songs will open the series on Friday night, March 11 to be followed by that aggregation of three artists, Gustlin, Woodford and Barstow, of which Clarence Gustlin is Santa Ana's own famous pianist, and Eleanor Woodford is only slightly less popular here as soloist. They will be presented on the night of March 25.

On Friday night, April 8, will be given the Zoellner String quartette program which will bring a musical organization always extremely popular here, Charles Wakefield Cadman and James Murray will be presented on Thursday night, April 21 and the climax of enjoyment will be reached with the final number, the famous Smallman "A Capella choir" to appear on Friday night, May 13.

Mrs. Fay R. Spangler, city P-T-A. president, has charge of the ticket sale for the course, and may be reached by phoning 1966 or 570 J.

Julia Lathrop Father-Son Banquet

Plans are now well underway for the semi-annual banquet of the Julia C. Lathrop junior high school boys and their fathers which is to be held Friday evening, March 4, at the Y. M. C. A. Last semester a mothers and sons banquet was held and there was an unusually large turnout of the boys and their mothers but an even larger attendance is expected at this next banquet.

These banquets are held under the auspices of the I. X. L. club of the Lathrop school. This is an active club within the school, of which every boy automatically becomes a member when he enters the school.

It has been announced that several capable speakers have promised to be present and a very worthwhile program has been worked out. It is hoped by those in charge of the banquet that every father who has a son attending Julia C. Lathrop junior high school, will make a special effort to be present.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Tustin Literature section of Ebell will meet at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday, March 1, at the home of Mrs. D. L. McCharles. A book review will be given by Miss Minnie Childs.

A meeting of the Santa Ana Primary Kindergarten club will be held at Lowell school, Monday, February 28 at 2:30 p. m. Members are urged to be present as a very interesting program has been arranged.

Southern District C. F. W. C. President's Council will be held Thursday, March 3, at 10:30 a. m. at Escondido Woman's club, Escondido. Make reservations with Mrs. Ray Trussell, Escondido. All clubwomen welcome.

Santa Ana Woman's club will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Mrs. Mary Schlaman, 1133 West Fifth street. The program on "California Products and Exports" will be in charge of Mrs. William Whitehead, Mrs. J. H. Tompkins, Mrs. Eva Logan and Mrs. George L. Wright. Light refreshments will be served.

Chess figures, carved from bones and as large as a man's fist, are displayed at the British museum and date back to the 10th century.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all children's little ills, he did not believe that a sickening "purg" or "physic" was necessary.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to establish natural bowel "regularity" even if the child is chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it never grips, sickens or upsets the most delicate system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless, and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, bilious, sick child gladly takes it.

John Barrymore Says He Likes to Look "Well Dressed...But Not Dressed Up"

Doesn't any man? Truly, a man should no more be conscious of his clothes than he is conscious of his eyelashes. The well-dressed man has no qualms about his looks. The Famous Fifties are a singular boon for such men. Here is the man-about-town's svelte style and the canny buyer's thrifty value. You never saw handsomer or more distinguished clothes than these.

SERRA GRADING AUTHORIZED BY HIGHWAY BODY

Returning this morning from Sacramento, where he has been attending on meetings of the California highway commission, J. P. Baumgartner brought the good news that the commission has authorized and immediately will advertise for bids for the grading of the Coast highway across the gap at Serra. Concurrently with this work, the county will be building two bridges on this piece of highway and the railroad and the state will be constructing subway crossings.

This is a much needed piece of work, especially now that the recent storm has destroyed even by-path connection between the northern end of the Coast highway and the trunk line of the coast highway, at Serra, Baumgartner said. The only way connection now can be made is by a three-mile detour around through the hills coming into the trunk line Coast highway above Cajistrano.

Baumgartner also reports that he succeeded in getting the highway commission to authorize co-operation with the county of Orange on a 50-50 basis in establishing and maintaining all detours through Laguna Beach and at Serra during highway construction.

Another piece of work authorized by the highway commission, during its recent meeting, in which Orange county is particularly interested, is the paving through Seal Beach. The highway is paved to a point in Los Angeles county just north of the Orange county line and from a point just south of the town of Seal Beach on to Laguna Beach. But the short distance through the town of Seal Beach is in very bad shape and its paving will be a decided improvement.

With these two jobs done, the new Coast highway will be practically completed from Oxnard to San Diego.

The Serra job is estimated to cost $85,000 and the Seal Beach job, $54,000; but the cost of the Serra job does not include the $65,000 the two bridges across San Juan creek will cost the county, nor the cost of the railroad's share of the subway crossings.

LIONS CLUB ENJOYS MUSICAL PROGRAM

With D. C. Clamfont as program chairman, the Lions club entertainment hour yesterday was devoted entirely to music, vocal and instrumental numbers being given by Santa Ana musicians and a musical contest being conducted to test the familiarity of members with the names of musical selections.

The Rev. J. H. Hughes, assistant pastor of the First Methodist church, entertained with two vocal selections, "Down in the Forest" and "Pale Moon," Alan Revill being the accompanist.

A trio, composed of Leon Eckles, violin; Eddie Burns, cello and Revill, played two numbers.

In the contest prizes were awarded to Dr. Elliott H. Rowland, A. G. Tucker, S. B. Kaufman, Judge J. L. Allen and Merle Hollingsworth.

These men were successful in naming titles by the playing of a few bars of each piece on a phonograph and the humming of numbers by Andy Anderson.

Prisoner Loses Out on 'Eats' In Courtroom Derby

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25.—Vincent Barker was so busy moving from one jail to another, and from one court to another, that he lost out all around on the county's meals, he told Judge Turney when he appeared to answer a liquor charge.

Barker said he had been in jail two days without anything to eat. "Do you mean to say they refused to feed you in the county jail," the court asked.

"Well, it wasn't intentional, I guess," Barker replied. "But they kept me moving from one jail to another and from one court to another and it seems moving time always came just as they were getting ready to feed the prisoners."

The judge handed Barker a dollar bill and also granted him probation.

JUDGE AMES TO STUDY BRIEFS IN WILL CASE

The contest to break the will of the late Justice John B. Cox was taken under advisement today by Superior Judge Homer G. Ames after attorneys representing Mrs. Mary Cox Emerson, daughter of the late jurist, and the Orange County Trust and Savings bank, executor of a trust created under the will, had presented argument in connection with briefs filed earlier.

Former District Attorney A. P. Nelson, representing the bank, contended that the entire trust could not be set aside so long as any portion was valid. He referred to the objection to the will raised by the daughter, whose contest is based upon the provision creating a trust that would pay the Cox heirs but $25 per month each from a $16,000 trust fund. It was charged that this created a perpetual trust.

Even though this portion of the trust should be set aside, Nelson intimated, the court still should uphold provisions of the will, which bequeathed the widow a life interest in the estate. The court, said Nelson, was bound to consider the intent of the testator.

Replying, Attorney W. F. Menton stated that he had nothing to add to the statements contained in his brief, but called attention to certain authorities he had cited, as covering points raised by Nelson. Menton and Attorney S. B. Kaufman represent Mrs. Emerson.

Petaluma Opens Largest Hatchery

PETALUMA, Calif., Feb. 25.—What is said to be the largest chicken hatchery in the world was opened recently in this city, famous as the egg capital of the west. Owned by the West Hatcheries company, the plant has a capacity of 1,800,000 eggs at one time, and everything is worked by machinery. Human hands do not touch the eggs from the time they are placed in the hatchery until young chicks come out of their shells. The company is a $1,600,000 organization.

A single mother snail may hatch as many as 10,000 eggs, while another may produce only a few.

CITIES SEEKING GATHERINGS OF PARTY LEADERS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The prospect that the coming national conventions of both the Republicans and the Democrats may present old-fashioned contests for the nominations will give added interest and importance to the choice of the convention cities. Already a dozen cities scattered from the Atlantic to the Pacific coasts are understood to be making ready to present their bids for one or the other of the conventions when the national committees meet to make their selections.

While Chicago appears on past-records to have the best chance of securing one of the conventions, it is not considered an absolute certainty that it will be chosen by either the Republicans or the Democrats. In years gone by, because of its central location and railroad and hotel facilities, Chicago was the favorite meeting place of the Republicans and also obtained its share of the Democratic national conventions. But nowadays its monopoly of these advantages no longer exists and both parties have shown an inclination to go elsewhere whenever conditions seemed to make another choice advisable.

Location of Conventions
The Republicans have held 18 national conventions, and half of these have been held in Chicago. Philadelphia has had three conventions, and Baltimore, Cincinnati, Minneapolis, St. Louis and Cleveland one each. Most of these conventions have been held in June, practically all of them after the middle of the month. The last Republican convention to be held in May was that of 1863, when Ulysses S. Grant was nominated.

The Democrats have held 24 conventions, the first being in 1832. Baltimore has held eight of the gatherings, St. Louis and Chicago four each, Cincinnati two, New York two, and Charleston, S. C., Kansas City, Denver and San Francisco one each. The report that Atlanta may seek next year's Democratic convention recalls that fact that the only meeting of that party heretofore held in the south was that at Charleston, in 1860, which was adjourned to Baltimore, where Douglas was nominated. The last convention was held in New York City, the 1920 convention in San Francisco and the 1916 convention in St. Louis, hile that of 1912, which first nominated Woodrow Wilson, was held in Baltimore.

Cleveland Makes Bid
So far, Cleveland is the only city to put in a claim for the Republican national convention. The Ohio city entertained the convention in 1924 and made a good job of it, which has encouraged it to try for another of the party gatherings. However, many cities are likely to appear in opposition before the choice is made.

Nearly a dozen cities are expected to enter the contest for the Democratic convention. Among those already mentioned are St. Louis, Des Moines, Denver, Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Detroit, Kansas City and Atlanta.

Against many of these cities, objections are urged on political as well as geographical grounds. It is argued that St. Louis and Kansas City are in the same state and that the claims of one are likely to offset the other. Los Angeles is regarded as too remote from the center of population. Des Moines is in a solid Republican state, as Atlanta is in the state overwhelmingly Democratic, and many Democratic leaders fail to see that the choice of either city would bring any accruing political advantage.

LONDON PREPARES FOR ROYAL COURT

LONDON, Feb. 25.—Although the dates will not be submitted to King George for his approval until the court returns to London from Sandringham, it is understood that the first two of this year's royal courts probably will be held on consecutive evenings during the last week in May and the latter two early in June.

Invitation lists to the four courts have now closed. From the huge mailbag received by the court chamberlain during the period in which the lists were open, it is certain that hardly half of those persons seeking invitations will cross the portal of the state apartments at Buckingham palace this summer.

Society is speculating about the regulations which will be issued as usual by the court chamberlain to govern attendance at the courts. Last year, it will be remembered, the regulations conflicted with the prevailing fashion in such matters as sleeves, trains and the length of the skirt.

It seems, however, that this year the matter will be left to the good taste of the debutantes presented rather than be made a matter of official enforcement. Semi-official denial is given to many reports that King George has asked the chamberlain to alter the regulations with a view to discouraging cropped and shingled hair.

It is generally expected that approximately the same number of American debutantes will make their curtsy before the king and queen this year as last. Ambassador and Mrs. Alanson B. Houghton will shortly have the unenviable task of deciding who these will be.

Baby Flies 3000 Miles With Father

CONCORD, Calif., Feb. 25.—America's youngest aviation enthusiast is John Richardson, 2. He is the son of O. C. Richardson, manager of an airfield here. John has traveled 3000 miles in a plane and keeps after his dad to give him more flying time.

RECKLESS DRIVER DRAWS HEAVY FINE

Charged with reckless driving, following his arrest on the state highway between Newport Beach and Huntington Beach, yesterday afternoon, C. S. Howell, 44, Hollywood oil worker, today was fined $250 in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court. Howell was given an alternative of spending 250 days in the county jail.

Tom Lyons, Huntington Beach, riding with Howell at the time he was arrested, also was brought to jail by Officers Harry Aldrich and Ray Bradford. He was charged with being drunk. He was fined $40 by Justice Morrison. According to the arresting officers, Howell was driving from one side of the road to another and was under the influence of liquor. He had a difficult time keeping his machine on the road at all officers declared. Howell was booked in the jail for driving while intoxicated, but the charge was reduced when the man was taken into court.

L. E. ROACH TO SEEK POST ON SCHOOL BOARD

Lloyd E. Roach, 116 North Sycamore street, prominent young Santa Ana business man, is one of the latest candidates in the field for election to the Santa Ana board of education.

Roach took out his nomination papers yesterday, secured the specified number of signatures and returned and filed the papers in a short time. He now is busy letting his friends know that he seeks the position.

Connected with the George A. Bown Investment service, in Santa Ana, Roach has been a resident here for the last five years, coming to Santa Ana from the town of his birth, Tama, Ia.

"I always have been interested in school work and it always has been an ambition of mine to work for the future generations," Roach said today. His campaign slogan will be "Make Santa Ana Schools the Best in the West."

Roach for two years was head of the Scouts in Santa Ana and, at the present time, holds a state office with that organization. He is senior warden of the Jubilee Masonic lodge here, a member of the Scottish Rite and the Shrine club.

He was, for five years, closely connected with student governing bodies of the university, which he attended, being a member of the student body staff, at all times in close contact with school affairs.

SMITH DIDN'T VOTE ON BEE RESOLUTION

Press reports to the effect that the county supervisors unanimously passed a resolution, Tuesday, opposing legislation that would transfer control of the county's bee industry from the board of supervisors to the state department of agriculture, were not exactly accurate, it developed today from a statement by Supervisor Willard Smith, of Orange.

While no votes were cast against the resolution, when it was introduced by Supervisor John C. Mitchell, of Garden Grove, Supervisor Smith declined to vote at all.

Smith explained his position by stating that he felt that the board of supervisors did not have full knowledge regarding the purpose of the legislation and that it was, therefore, recording an uninformed opinion. Apurists, who have been agitating against a change from the present system, apparently do not represent the entire honey industry, as the bee men, themselves, seem to be divided over the question of what they want, said the supervisor.

Foreclosure is Sought

Foreclosure of a $372 mortgage against property in Fullerton is sought in a superior court complaint filed by F. O. Evans, through Attorney J. F. Conkey. W. Wesley Hummon and Hazel Hummon are chief defendants in the case. In another action, the Evans Security company seeks to quiet title to other Fullerton property. Andrew Payson is defendant in that suit.

GOODE DECIDES TO ENTER CITY COUNCIL RACE

As a result of a meeting of about twenty-five residents of the second ward, last night, in the Lincoln schoolhouse, City Trustee Stanley E. Goode today stated that he had decided to become a candidate for re-election.

The meeting, last night, was presided over by E. P. Stafford. It was called to order by George Munro. J. C. Wallace was elected secretary.

The situation in the second ward was discussed. Various possible candidates were gone over. Finally, on a vote, Goode was requested to make the race and was given the unanimous endorsement of those present.

Goode said today that he probably would get out his nomination papers tomorrow.

Goode was appointed a year ago in January to succeed J. W. Tubbs, resigned. While on the board he has been street commissioner. From the ordinary expenses of the department he has saved sufficient money to have all the dirt alleys of the city graded and gravelled and enough money to build a new city garage, plans for which now are being drawn.

S. A. Publicity to Appear In April Tourist Magazine

Three pages of written matter, concerning Santa Ana, set off by well chosen photographs, will appear in the April number of "The American and Canadian Tourist," a publication with a circulation of 116,000, the article being made possible through the efforts of Secretary George Raymer, of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce. Raymer said that the magazine, which is published in Los Angeles, is sent to all parts of the world and he considers that the publicity for the city will prove valuable.

FULLERTON POLICE FIND MISSING GIRL

Margery Ford, 15-year-old Los Angeles girl, was found by the Fullerton police, yesterday afternoon, walking on the Santa Fe tracks, near Nicholas avenue, Fullerton.

Her parents had been in communication with police in Orange county, as a result of the girl's running away from a boarding school. She formerly resided with her parents in Los Angeles.

When the girl was found by the police, her clothes were muddy, she apparently having spent the night in an orange grove near Fullerton. She refused to talk when she was turned over to the city nurse, pending the arrival of her parents from Los Angeles.

WEAVER RELEASED ON BAIL OF $5000

Posting $5000 bail for his release, Dennis Weaver, of Garden Grove, was at liberty today, awaiting his hearing in superior court on a charge that he violated a parole of the court.

Two brothers of Weaver filed a $5000 property bond late yesterday, to guarantee his appearance before Superior Judge E. J. Marks tomorrow, at 9:30 a. m.

The court is scheduled to determine tomorrow whether the Garden Grove man, who was arrested near Los Alamitos, last Monday night, on charges of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor and resisting an officer, violated terms of probation granted him in 1922. The probation was allowed in connection with Weaver's conviction of a grand larceny charge.

Should the court find that parole was violated, Weaver is liable to summary removal to San Quentin for a term of from one to 10 years for grand larceny, it was stated.

53-Mile Speeder Begins Jail Term

Pleading guilty to a charge of speeding 53 miles an hour on the Newport-Huntington Beach stretch of the Coast highway, Bernard G. Evans, 27, 523 Twenty-fourth street, Santa Monica, was sentenced to serve five days in the county jail. He began the sentence last night. Evans was arrested a week ago, by State Officer George Peterkin.

Court Notes

Roland M. Johnson, of Santa Ana, has filed a petition in superior court to procure letters of administration over the $5000 estate left by his late wife, Cynthia B. Johnson, who died in 1922. The estate consists of Santa Ana property. The husband, a son, Ralph E. Johnson, of Santa Ana, and a daughter, Jessie R. Smith, of Victorville, are the heirs. Morris Cain is attorney for the petitioner.

MISS LONDON! MR. SANTA ANA ON TELEPHONE!

Mr. Santa Ana can talk to Miss London tomorrow on the new transatlantic telephone service, Earl S. Morrow, manager of the Santa Ana office of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, announced today.

The conversation might be something like this:

"Hello! London? This is Mr. Santa Ana, in California."

"Oh, I say, are you there, Mr. Santa Ana? A motion picture actor, perhaps?"

And Miss London may adjust her lorgnette, clamp the fancy European style receiver to one pink ear, flush with surprise and remark, in an aside, to her grandmother:

"Santa Ana, bah jove!"

When the conversation is resumed, the words will run over approximately 7000 miles or more, including the Atlantic ocean, the words being skipped across the "big drink" by radio and then put back on the telephone line in England. The following was Morrow's comment:

"Arrangements have been made for the further extension of the transatlantic radio telephone service between the United States and England, Scotland and Wales, to include the area comprising California, Nevada, Washington, Oregon and Arizona. The date set for the opening is Saturday, February 26, and thereafter—almost—phonic conditions permitting—the service will be available daily between the hours of 5:30 a. m. and 10 a. m. Pacific coast time."

"Because of the short time available each day, it is desirable that when practicable calls from Pacific coast points to points in England, Scotland and Wales be filed somewhat in advance of the desired time of completion. Arrangements have been made to accept calls commencing Friday, February 24, for completion after the opening of service on Saturday, February 26. The transatlantic radio telephone service, inaugurated on January 7, was limited to the metropolitan areas of New York and London and since has been rapidly extended so that on February 26 this service will be available to all points in the United States and England, Scotland and Wales."

$87 for Three Minutes

"Telephone subscribers wishing to use the transatlantic radio telephone service should call 'Long Distance' in the usual way. The charge between Pacific coast points and points in England, Scotland and Wales for a three-minute conversation, either with a designated party or a designated telephone, will be $87 and a charge of $23 for each additional minute or fraction thereof. There will be a report charge of $10 in case the telephone is reached but not the designated party. Considering the advantages of telephone communication, this will be a relatively inexpensive method of rapid communication between the Pacific coast and the British Isles."

"Because of the congestion that may exist from time to time with a single radio channel available, it will be necessary to limit calls to a maximum of 12 minutes when other calls are waiting for connection."

"The first communication from Southern California will be between N. R. Powley, general manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, in Los Angeles, and H. E. Shreeve, in London, assistant to vice president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company."

Commission Drops Ticket Sale Probe

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Inability of the New York Box office commission to find evidence strong enough to prosecute suspects will cause the investigation of the Maloney-Delaney ticket scandal to die peacefully on the table today.

Southern California Gardens

By RUSSELL S. ADKINSON

Native Plants
Several thousand plants are used in Southern California at the present time and of that number but very few are natives. It is remarkable when we stop to think of the adaptability of our soils and climate to the wide range of trees and shrubs. The reason we have but few natives, compared with the great number used, is chiefly one of apathy.

The imported varieties all are made possible by the presence of water. That one element will transform a desert into a beautiful garden.

Because of this, our limited number of natives is exceedingly hardy. Some are not easily domesticated. This is usually true when they are not given a natural exposure to that in which they grow naturally. Most of them are difficult to transplant or propagate. Some seeds require burning or cracking to enable germination to take place.

At the present time it is possible to transplant quite a number of these natives by exercising greatest care. Wonderful success has been obtained by most careless methods, but this is the exception rather than the rule. It is necessary to obtain permission from the property owner upon whose premises the desired plants exist before attempting to transplant. Public land all is under the jurisdiction of a law preventing the removal of all native plants. Previous to its enactment much destruction was caused by those ruthless and greedy in their methods.

In order to be assured of greatest possible success, which may not be

Cotant Appointed To Region Board Of Bank of Italy

C. E. Cotant, president of the Orange County Trust and Savings bank, was appointed a member of the regional board of the Bank of Italy, it became known here today, with announcement that the state-wide financial institution had inaugurated a new plan of operation by the creation of northern and southern divisions.

By its recent enlargement, the Bank of Italy has become the second largest in the United States, with total capital, surplus and undivided profits of $105,000,000, resources approximating $700,000,000, and 276 branches.

Cotant said that he is a stockholder of the Bank of Italy, but laid stress on the point that his selection as regional director in no sense means that the Orange County Trust and Savings bank is a branch of the Bank of Italy. His election on the board was a great surprise to him, he said.

"The Santa Ana institution which I head is strictly a private state bank and is owned, managed and controlled by local persons," Cotant said.

JUDGE ORDERS CONCLUSION OF GUN CLUB CASE

The last word on the question of alleged waste of water by two gun clubs, which were fined $300 each for that asserted offense—barring only that of Superior Judge Homer G. Ames, himself—was scheduled to be spoken today, with the conclusion of oral argument on the appeals of the two clubs, the West Shore Gun club and the Blue Wing Shooting club.

Briefs already have been filed by the prosecution and defense and the supplementary oral argument, which has been in progress at various times this week, was ordered concluded this afternoon. Judge Ames told the attorneys, when court opened today, that the matter must be finished before night.

Chief Deputy District Attorney L. W. Blodgett occupied this morning's session of court with his reply to opening argument by appellant's counsel, L. A. West and George P. Adams, who addressed the court last Monday. Blodgett defended the sufficiency of the complaints, which had been questioned by West and Adams, and devoted his attention to complying with a request by the court that he point out a "prima facie" case against the gun clubs from the evidence introduced against them at their trials in justice court.

ACTION DECIDED IN DEFENDANT'S FAVOR

Judgment in favor of the defendant, late yesterday, ended the trial of a suit brought by W. O. Lusk against B. Hartfield, to recover $1000 as a realty commission.

Both parties live in Anaheim. Lusk acted as agent in a deal for the exchange of property belonging to Hartfield, in Anaheim, for Los Angeles property. A controversy arose and the deal fell through. Lusk claimed his commission.

Hartfield produced testimony in court, yesterday, to show that he had paid Lusk $350 at the time the deal fell through and that the money was accepted in full satisfaction for Lusk's claim. Superior Judge E. J. Marks decided the case in favor of Hartfield.

Attorney Leo F. Fries, Anaheim, represented Lusk. Attorney Leonard Evans appearing for Hartfield.

WINTERSBURG

WINTERSBURG, Feb. 25.—The home of Mrs. Frank Smith was the meeting place this week for the members of the Willing Workers' society, the regular meeting, scheduled for last week with Mrs. Frank Hileman as hostess, having been postponed owing to weather conditions. The women spent the afternoon quilting and toward the close Mrs. Smith served a light luncheon. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Mills Cowling. Present at Wednesday's meeting were Mrs. Arthur Jones, Mrs. M. A. Koontz, Mrs. Frank Hickman, Mrs. Mark Hodges, Mrs. Arthur Eby, Mrs. Mills Cowling, Mrs. Max Bada, Mrs. Oscar Borsen and Mrs. Harriette Dowty. George Gothard Jr. and a party from here visited Gothard's 20 acres in the Newhope district Wednesday to see what damage had been done by the river, which is running across one side of it. He can do anything toward ranching the land. The home of his nearest neighbor, Mr. Brooks, was found to have been swept away in the flood.

Two other implements were finally unearthed, but all of his irrigation pipe and a plow could not be found. Gothard estimates that it will be at least two years before he can do anything toward ranching the land. The home of his nearest neighbor, Mr. Brooks, was found to have been swept away in the flood.

The first meeting of the Methodist Bible study class, which was recently organized, was held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Sherman Buck with 12 women present. Mrs. J. W. Mcintosh, who is permanent leader of the study class, took up with the class the subject, "Man, His Origin and His Fall." The subject for next Wednesday's meeting is announced as "The Christ," and the hostess will be Mrs. E. Ray Moore. It is announced that anyone wishing transportation may let either Mrs. J. R. Carpenter or Mrs. W. F. Slater know and arrangements will be made by them. The class convenes each Wednesday at 2 o'clock.

Maurine Moore, who is having the scarlet fever, is reported as recovering from the disease nicely.

It was a habit of Washington to kneel in private prayer, both morning and evening.

61 HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS FLUNK IN ARITHMETIC OF 8TH GRADE

Third of Poly Class Not Able to Pass Test Given In Elementary Subject

EXAMINATION PART OF WORK IN REVIEW

Failure Inexcusable, Says Teacher, Commenting on Pupils' Knowledge Lack

Out of a class of 133 high school seniors, 61, or exactly 33 1-3 per cent of the students failed in an eighth grade arithmetic examination, given them recently under the direction of Miss Levenia Scott, of the Santa Ana high school faculty.

"The test had been expected by the seniors for some time past, as it is a part of senior review work, which must be completed before graduation, and a test similar to it was published in The Generator, the high school paper, so there was no excuse for the failure of the class to successfully pass the examination," Miss Scott stated.

The fact that seniors who are still in the habit of studying and are required in some classes to make use of the mathematics learned in grammar school brings the question to mind as to how many persons, out of school for some years, can successfully answer the questions asked in the test, it is declared.

The examination problems were as follows:

LAGUNA BEACH MAN USES TRAINED DUCKS AS DECOYS

Top picture shows the trained duck "herd" that J. M. Murphy, Laguna Beach, takes along with him on hunting expeditions and uses as decoys to lure other birds to his hiding places. Below (left to right) L. V. Murphy, Jack Murphy and J. M. Murphy return from the hunt, laden down with ducks.

J. M. Murphy Teaches Birds To Remain in Water As Shots Are Fired

When J. M. Murphy, Laguna Beach sportsman, goes a-hunting for ducks, all he has to do is assemble his trained "herd" of mallards, speak to them in his own kindly way, turn them loose on the slough—

And await the inevitable result. His flock, 28 in number and descendant of birds that have been with the Murphy family 45 years, never have failed him.

They act as living decoys, turning unsuspecting ducks and drakes to the slough where Murphy and his two sons, Ex-Judge L. V. Murphy and Jack Murphy, both of Laguna Beach, are ambushed, and maneuver so that the wild birds are in advantageous position for the hunters.

Murphy Trio Appear

When the stage is "set" and the "properties" satisfactorily arranged, the Murphy triumvirate appears from its hiding place with something of a war hoop.

The "ramped" wild ducks, frightened, whirl into the sky.

But not so the trained Murphy mallards. They remain motionless in the water, as they have been taught.

The three Murphys shoot and, if they don't miss, bring down three birds for the evening's nose-bag. This process is repeated until the Laguna Beach nimrods have their limit, which is usually the case, or the invaders have become wary and refused to be enticed to the pond.

J. M. Murphy began instructing his "herd" when he was residing in Princeville, Ill., almost a half century ago. The original flock was of mallard train.

Kindness Is Method

In training ducks, Murphy has found it impossible to use any other method than kindness. The first thing he takes into consideration is

FRENCH HATE UNITED STATES. SAYS R. E. REID

Think Americans All Made Fortunes As Result of War, Asserts Santa Anan

French people cordially hate the United States, and have stopped hating all other nations in order to concentrate their hatred on this nation, according to Robert E. Reid, who recently returned from a tour of foreign lands.

Reid said today that since announcement of his return he has had many inquiries concerning conditions in Europe from Santa Ana and Orange county persons who contemplate visits to the old world. The inquiries, he said, were particularly from Rotarians, who may attend the international convention of Rotarians in Ostend, Belgium, and American Legion men, who may go overseas in the summer.

Emphasizing the point that hatred for the United States is expressed by the class of French people with which American tourists come in contact in shops, trains, hotels and other places, Reid said that the French people seemed to be possessed of the idea that all Americans are millionaires and that they accumulated their money as a result of the war.

1926 Trying Year

"France passed through a most trying year in 1925," Reid said. "In my opinion the worst is yet to come, unless extreme measures are resorted to in an attempt to stabilize its currency, as Germany and Belgium have done. Early this year, while I was there, the franc had a ratio of 25 to one American dollar. It had recovered from this basis since the previous July and without any good reason, as France's internal debts now are over 300,000,000 francs, compared with $3,000,000 before the war, to say nothing of the $4,000,000,000 owed this nation. France has not even set up in her budget funds to take care of the obligation to the United States. The average worker is laboring under the idea that his condition is due to the fact that this nation demands payment of obligations made by France."

The returned traveler said that, compared with 1923, when he was a visitor in France, prices are very high. He said that the average Frenchman is not buying now.

"We saw articles priced higher than they could be purchased for in New York," Reid said, by way of emphasis.

France Not Ruined

"France not ruined as a result of the war, but she has a mass of pressing obligations, which she must, sooner or later, begin to liquidate. With relation to the gold reserves, the francs issued are far out of proportion. France must sacrifice the present for the future, although it may hurt to make the start, which means the practice of more rigid economy and higher taxes."

"Contrasted with our trip through France was our visit to Germany and Austria, where the people seemed glad to get out good American dollars and where we were treated with the utmost courtesy."

"There is much unemployment in Berlin, the idle numbering about 300,000, but you never hear a complaint. The people seem more than pleased with Hindenburg as president. If there ever should be another war, it is certain it will not be started by Germany. She has had enough and she has learned her lesson well."

Wife Is Plaintiff In Divorce Action

Her husband claimed to be disgusted with all women and so refused his companionship to her, Mrs. Louis M. Jewell, of Anaheim, charged today in a divorce suit filed in superior court against Walter J. Jewell.

For nearly two years, they lived under the same roof, almost strangers, the divorce petition states. They finally separated on February 13. Their marriage took place in 1914, in Anaheim.

Mrs. Jewell, represented by Attorneys Tipton and Callor, asks custody of the two Jewell children and $50 per month alimony.

JUNIOR DIVISION WILL ELECT AT NEXT MEETING

With the annual election of officers slated as the only business, an extra large attendance is expected Monday night at the meeting of the junior chamber of commerce, to be held in Ketter's cafe, beginning at 6:30.

The meeting will be the last to be presided over by Mason Yould, retiring president. It also will be the last at which Ridley Smith will act as secretary, both Yould and Smith having declared that they will not seek office again.

A complete set of officers and directors will be elected, three nominations being required for each office. At the present time, Bob Fernandez, member of the board of directors, appears to be the leading candidate for the presidency. He is not making an active campaign for the office, but has let it be known that if the members want him to take the office he will not refuse, provided he can be assured of complete support.

For each of the other offices, vice president, secretary and treasurer, more than one name has been mentioned. Bruce Switzer, retiring vice president, does not seek to run again, but it is said that he would accept the office if he were chosen. Others suggested for the vice presidency are Cyrus Featherly, Virgil Clem, Franklin West and L. W. Archer. For the secretaryship, George K. Scovel, E. Merle Hussong, M. S. Robinson and Harry Westover have been mentioned. Dean Colver, John Cannon, Charles Chamberlain and Henry Williams have been mentioned for treasurer.

The following men have been suggested as good material for the board of directors:

Quartet Chips In To Furnish Bail For Law's Victim

Police raided the home of B. Guenero, 25, 1027 Logan street, last night, arresting him on a charge of operating a gambling game. Officers are alleged to have found a card game in progress in Guenero's home.

Brought to the police station, Guenero was allowed his freedom on bail of $25 to insure his appearance in Judge J. F. Talbot's court this afternoon.

Four men were in the game at the time officers arrived, according to a report, and all four "chipped in" to make bail for Guenero, police said. After the quartet had placed the bail money, only 10 cents remained among the four, it was said.

The other three men were not arrested.

PAIR TAKEN TO PRISON AFTER LOSING APPEAL

Losing their appeal to the appellate court, S. E. Mitchell and S. C. Nilson, convicted of grand larceny, were taken to San Quentin prison late yesterday to begin serving sentences of from one to 14 years.

The two men were convicted in Judge Marks court in February, 1925. They filed an appeal to the appellate court and have been in the county jail since that time, awaiting an answer.

The prisoners were taken to the state's penitentiary by Deputy Sheriffs H. W. McKague and C. L. Neuschwanger, who are expected to return here Saturday night or Sunday.

On the return trip, the officers will bring to Santa Ana Lydia E. Grate, Jack Felton and Mildred Grate, being held in Oakland, Lydia Grate and Felton are charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor. The charge was filed against the couple in Huntington Beach.

According to Huntington Beach officers, Felton left the beach city some time ago with Mrs. Grate and her daughter. They were arrested for Orange county officers by the Oakland police.

FLOOD CONTROL IS FEATURE OF DISCUSSION AT CHAMBER MEET

Greatest Problem Before Orange County Citizens, Associated Body Believes

TOPIC INTRODUCED BY PLACENTIA MAN

Hale Expresses Satisfaction with Measure Presented by Dr. C. D. Ball

Flood control is the biggest problem before citizens of Orange county today, it was indicated at the meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county, at Newport Beach, last night, when virtually the entire session of the organization was given over to discussion of the situation.

H. H. Hale, of Placentia, chairman of the conservation committee of the organization, introduced the subject when he was called on for a report. Hale declared his satisfaction with the bill introduced in the state legislature, by Assemblyman Ball, for the creation of a control district embracing the entire county.

Pointing out that if amendments are to be made to the measure, they must be made within the next 30 days, the committee chairman stressed the point that the bill authorizes taxation only on real estate, provides that bonds may be voted by a straight majority and creates the district without submission of the proposition to the voters of the county.

Early decision as to whether the measure meets with the approval of the taxpayers of the county was considered of such importance that it was decided to hold an adjourned meeting of the body in Fullerton on Thursday night, March 10, when the bill will be the sole topic of discussion.

In discussing the feature of assessing only on real estate to provide funds for protection work, Hale illustrated the difference be-

AT THE THEATERS

John Barrymore in a scene from "Don Juan," current attraction at the West Coast-Walker theater.

Members of the Holland Fantasy cast, now appearing in vaudeville at the Yost Broadway theater.

YOST BROADWAY THEATER
Lewis Stone, featured at the Yost Broadway tonight in "An Affair of the Follies," was born in Worcester, Mass., and graduated from Barnard school, New York, just in time to enlist in the Spanish-American war.

Military life and the amusement business have divided his attention ever since. After the Spanish-American conflict he maintained his connection with the army, while steadily forging ahead, first on the stage and then on the screen. Shortly after the conclusion of the military argument with Spain, he played his first stage role, in a New York presentation of "Side-tracked."

Stone made exceedingly rapid progress, on the stage, and was starred in such notable New York productions as "Misleading Lady," "Inside the Lines," and "Where Poppies Bloom." He then came to Los Angeles, where he became the matinee idol of John Blackwood's famous Belasco stock company.

His first screen role was with Bessie Barriscale in "Honor's Altar," for Thomas H. Ince. An engagement on the stage opposite Maude Fulton in "The Brat" then took him away from pictures, and the outbreak of the World war recalled him to his military duties.

WEST COAST-WALKER
"Don Juan!" What adventurous and romantic fancies that name conjures up in the minds of the literature lovers of all nations! John Barrymore! What a very incarnation of the spirit of romance and adventure that name represents to all lovers of the stage and screen the world over.

Therefore, it is with pardonable pride that the West Coast-Walker theater presents its super-production of "Don Juan," starring John Barrymore.

This inimitable love-chronicle artfully combining intimacy, action and splendor, loosely adheres to the tradition of Don Juan Tenorio, grandee of Spain, on which Moliere, Balzac, Byron, Zorrilla and many others have based enduring contributions to the world's classics. The source-character of Don Juan possesses the characteristics of irresistible charm, grace and masculine comeliness. He is accomplished, aggressive, audacious in affairs of honor or the heart. Men instinctively acknowledge his natural precedence in the kingdom of intellect and power—women his mastery in the realm of emotion and love.

In the photodrama "Don Juan," Bess Meredyth, adaptress of "The Sea Beast," has created in collaboration with Barrymore and Alan Crosland, the director, an original treatment of the legend, a culmination of all the Don Juans that have gone before, a personification of the arrogant, strutting, boastful, daring, eventful, romantic, colorful, fifteenth century. An age when rapiers leapt as quickly and easily from their scabbards as a glance from the eye.

YOST THEATER

Those able actors and actresses who are "less than stars" in screenedom do not often have opportunity to demonstrate their full worth without jeopardizing the important position of the principal characters. Not so, however, in "God's Great Wilderness," the production which closes at the Yost theater tonight.

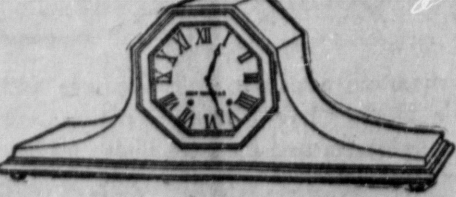

Mary Carr, whose fame in mother roles on the screen dates from her marvelous success in "Over the Hill," is again the ideal mother in this great picture.

Lillian Rich, Joseph Bennett, Russell Simpson and Mary Carr are included in the cast.

MAP SHOWING VARIOUS ZONES PROPOSED FOR SANTA ANA SUBMITTED TO CITY COUNCIL BY PLANNING COMMISSION

- SINGLE RESIDENCES.
- FIRST CLASS BUSINESS.
- NEIGHBORHOOD.
- APARTMENTS.
- TWO STORIES OR LESS.
- HEAVY INDUSTRIES.
- LIGHT.

Here's final zoning map submitted by the planning commission to the city council, with recommendation that it be adopted. The various zones are clearly indicated and residents of Santa Ana should make a study of the map and get the areas definitely impressed on their minds. The council will meet at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon for consideration of the map and an ordinance which must be adopted to make zoning effective.

MANSUR GETS CONTRACT FOR $93,000 HOTEL

Allen Mansur, Santa Ana contractor, today was awarded a contract for the erection of a $93,000 Spanish type hotel, in Laguna Beach, for Hallam Cooley, prominent motion picture comedian.

The hotel, a 30-room structure, will be located on the ocean front at Three Arch Palisades, about three and one half miles south of Laguna Beach. It will be situated on property recently purchased by Cooley for a reported consideration of $85,000.

Beauty will be stressed in the landscaping and architecture of the building, according to reports. Cooley recently returned from Europe, where he had been filming pictures, and brought with him many unique and artistic ideas, which will be incorporated in the new hotel. The hotel will be the first fine hotel on the Orange county coastline.

With the report of the awarding of the contract to Mansur came the report that Lewis H. Lasley, owner of the Three Arch Palisades tract, had let a contract to the Western Pipe company, of Los Angeles, for a $28,000 water system for the tract. Construction of the water system will be under the supervision of W. G. Knox, Santa Ana engineer.

Knox also is working on plans for a 200,000-gallon reservoir for the tract, according to reports. It is expected that the water system will be completed in three months. Construction work on the new hotel is expected to be completed before the close of the summer season.

Mansur is connected with the Santa Ana Lumber company.

Bud Taylor Wins From Eddie Shea

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—Using a rapier-like left to good advantage, Bud Taylor, Terre Haute, Ind., claimant to the world's bantamweight title, had little difficulty in disposing of Eddie Shea, of Chicago, getting the decision after 10 rounds here last night.

Hanley Welcomed At Northwestern

EVANSTON, Ill., Feb. 25.—Dick Hanley, new Northwestern university football coach, was given a rousing greeting by 82 football candidates following his first meeting here.

TO THE VOTERS OF SANTA ANA

I am a candidate for election to the office of City Recorder.

I was appointed in March, 1925, to succeed the late Col. Heathman and am hoping the citizens of this city may approve of my administration of the office.

I will appreciate your fair consideration and trust you may feel warranted in giving me your support.

JOHN F. TALBOTT.

Trustees Will Consider Ordinance at Monday's Meeting

The city council will take up consideration of the zoning map and ordinance recommended by the city planning commission for adoption as the official guide for the future development of the city at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon.

According to Dr. Carol Aronovitch, planning expert, the ordinance is based upon the experience of the last 10 years in zoning in various cities and towns of California and the general features are those contained in the model zoning ordinance officially suggested by the U. S. department of commerce through its staff of city planning experts.

Meets Needs of City

The ordinance has been modified to meet the needs of Santa Ana, after a careful and exhaustive study of conditions and needs here by the expert. Dr. Aronovitch says that among the cities of California, the zoning experiences of which have been considered in connection with the Santa Ana ordinance are Berkeley, Richmond, Sacramento, Santa Rosa, Petaluma, Sebastopol, Santa Cruz, Fresno, Santa Barbara, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Beverly Hills.

Commenting on the ordinance, the expert said: "The ordinance provides for an adequate single family residential district, which will tend to stabilize home site values and provide adequate protection for investors in homes."

"The business district provides for a population of about five times the present population of Santa Ana and is designed to absorb all possible avenues of the city which give access to traffic. The North Main street district, with its proposed set back line, will make possible the development of a main artery with adequate traffic space and ample parking space for business."

Will Encourage Building
"In the business district, residences are permitted, according to the ordinance, and exemptions from fire restrictions will encourage the building of homes where land zoned for business development. Apartment houses also are permitted in the business zone."

"The types of apartment house zones also are provided for in the ordinance. One type of apartment house zone permits buildings two stories in height or less, including bungalow courts and duplexes. The other type of apartment house zone provides for the location of hotels, clubs, etc., and the buildings may be three stories in height or more and of fire resisting construction. In these zones residences also are permitted."

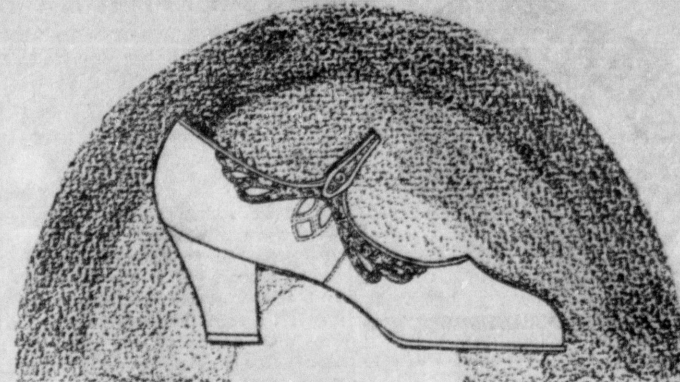

"The light and heavy industrial districts have been located where they would be most accessible to rail and highway transportation and where they would be of least damage to other property. All other buildings are permitted in these zones."

"The ordinance makes adequate provision for changes when necessity demands. It can be changed by action of the council, either on application of property owners, at the suggestion of the city planning commission, or on the initiative of the council."

Washington was the only person whose birthday was publicly celebrated while he still lived. February 22 was quite widely celebrated while he was president.

M. C. COOPER IN RACE FOR S. A. CITY COUNCIL

M. C. Cooper, 144 West Seventeenth street, has taken out nomination papers for election to the city council from the first ward. Cooper is a pioneer resident of Santa Ana, having resided here for 42 years. He has had part in the initiation of many civic improvements that have had their influence in advancing the city from the village to the city class. Cooper today recounted that he was foreman of crews that co-operated in construction of the first sewer, the first pavement and the first cement sidewalk laid down in this community. He also was a member of the first volunteer fire department organized here and directed a gang of workmen in the operation of building the first street railway system in the city, the construction of the lines in Santa Ana to Orange and El Modena and from Santa Ana to Tustin.

The street car operations were by a group of Santa Ana men. M. J. Bundy, still a resident of Santa Ana, being at the head of the company. Cooper is a Spanish war veteran, having been one of the members of company L when the company departed from Santa Ana in expectation of seeing real duty in the Spanish-American war. The company, however, got no further than San Francisco. He is a member of Calumet Camp, No. 26, U.S.W.V.

He also is identified with the Santa Ana lodge of Odd Fellows and all its branches. "I have seen Santa Ana progress from a village to a real city and should I be elected to the council it will be my purpose to keep the city in the advancing step it has been maintaining for many years past," Cooper said.

EDUCATED DUCKS USED AS DECOYS

the fact that he must gain the animal's confidence and to do this he must necessarily begin when the ducks are quite young. Natural mimics, the ducks readily imitate their elders and the task is not as difficult as it would at first appear, Murphy said. He has, of course, been aided by the natural instinct born in the birds in his charge. Murphy never has commercialized his system and uses his birds only for his own personal use and pleasure on hunting junkies, which he and his sons often taken to Salton Sea and other duck rendezvous.

FOR COUNCIL

M. C. Cooper, pioneer resident of Santa Ana, who is a candidate for the city council from the first ward.

CANYON ROADS NOT OPEN, SAYS MADGE

The road from Orange County park up the Santiago canyon to Silverado canyon and up Silverado canyon from the Santiago to the mines is not open to travel, as a result of the recent rainstorms in this section of the county, according to a statement made today by W. C. Madge, manager of the Silverado mines, who was in Santa Ana.

A story in The Register, yesterday, was to the effect that a crew of men had succeeded in opening the road. Madge said that a crew of men had been able to go from the park to the mines, but only under the greatest difficulty and after some blasting had been done. Madge did not know when the road would be open, he said. He said that six or seven miles of road had been washed out by the floods.

Radio Talk Heard By Large Audience

A capacity audience was attracted to the Ebell auditorium last night, when Howard D. King, of the Radio Corporation of America, conducted "A Tour Through Radioland," with the aid of motion pictures. The audience was greatly interested in the exposition of the manner in which pictures are sent by radio. The entertainment was free to the public and was made possible through the courtesy of the Radio Den and the Turner Radio company, Santa Ana Radiola dealers.

FLOOD CONTROL IS SUBJECT AT CHAMBER MEET

tween a tax on real estate and on all property by presenting an example on one piece of property he owns in the Placentia district. Under the real estate tax, on a $5,000,000 bond issue for 40 years, he would pay an average annual tax of $8.86, while under an all-property tax, he would contribute $38.85 annually. He computed his tax on the basis of a 20-cent rate on all property and 30 cents on real estate only.

Other speakers brought up the point as to detail of work that should be done and discussions centered around Prado dam, the rights on the river of Riverside and San Bernardino counties and protection work on other streams of the county, until discussions were halted on the ground that passage of a flood control bill satisfactory to all residents was the important thing and that details of work could be considered and developed after a vehicle is provided by which the work can be done.

Emphasis was laid on the fact that the board of supervisors contemplated utilization of provisions of the measure for control work on the Santa Ana river, Santiago creek, in Carbon canyon and at other points in the county where situation would justify expenditures for control work.

Property Values Told
William Schumacher, supervisor, presented a group of properties on which assessed valuations have been made by the county for the purpose of pointing out the difference between the real estate tax and the tax on all property. Citation was made of the county's real estate assessed value of $100,340,065, improvements of $34,889,080 and personal property appraised at $18,000,000. The value on real estate in Fullerton is $5,048,080 and on improvements $2,078,975. Santa Ana valuation on real estate was quoted as being $9,892,085 and on improvements, $6,400,145.

Properties of the First National bank in Santa Ana and Anaheim also were cited, the assessed value of land of the First National bank of Santa Ana being given at $49,965 and improvements at $90,000. The site of the First National bank in Anaheim, is assessed at $13,025 and improvements are valued at $16,665.

A speaker last night raised the point as to why taxation had been limited to real estate only and the question was answered by another, who said that he understood that a tax could not legally be placed on all properties.

L. A. West, Santa Ana attorney, who assisted in drafting the bill, said today that there is no legal obstacle to placing a tax on improvements and personal property, but that a tax on real estate only was considered the most equitable, as the benefits would accrue to land only.

Flood Damage Report
Reporting on flood damage to highways of the county, Supervisor Schumacher recounted the damage in Santa Ana and Carbon canyons as being the most serious. He announced that a by-pass at the washout in Santa Ana canyon probably would make the canyon road available within two weeks. Delegates to the chambers complimented the county highway department for its splendid work during the flood period, reference being made to the marking of flooded sections of the highways by the placing of laths along the route and the maintenance of men at various county bridges to guard traffic and protect the structure from damage.

H. A. Lake, Garden Grove; T. B. Talbert, Huntington Beach; Dr. J. D. Thomas, Olive, and others complimented the citizens of Newport Beach on their enterprise in voting the bond issue of $500,000 for harbor improvement and prediction was made that developments in the harbor district would demonstrate the value of the harbor to all Orange county.

The secretary was authorized to take up at once with the railroad commission the matter of urging the Santa Fe and the Southern Pacific railway companies to rebuild some of their bridges across Santa Ana river. Particular reference was made to the Santa Fe bridge above Olive and the Southern Pacific bridge at West Orange.

Ninety-seven men and women were present at the meeting. The address of welcome was made by Mayor Conrad Richter, of Newport Beach, and response was by Dr. J. D. Thomas, of Olive.

Supervisor Schumacher announced that S. V. Cortelyou, engineer, in Los Angeles, for the state highway commission, has plans for widening the state highway between Fullerton and Anaheim and that the engineer would attend the next meeting of the associated chambers to present details of the improvement. The paved section will be 58 feet wide.

Secretary Raymer was directed to get in touch with Cortelyou and urge immediate action in the rebuilding of section of highway washed out between Newport Beach and Huntington Beach.

Service Company Fails In Suit To Obtain Injunction

Efforts of the Southern Service company to obtain an injunction against Fred C. Johnson, Newport Beach laundryman, to prevent him from soliciting business in the harbor district, including Long Beach, Wilmington and San Pedro, failed in superior court yesterday, when Judge E. J. Marks granted a motion for non-suit, ending the case in Johnson's favor.

Johnson was one of the owners of the Economy laundry in San Pedro, which was purchased by the Southern Service company under an agreement that the owners would not, for a period of five years, solicit business in the harbor district. The court, in granting the motion for non-suit, held in effect that no proof had been shown that Johnson had violated the agreement. On the witness stand, Johnson said that he received laundry from drivers who owned their own routes. He did not know where the business came from, he said.

Attorney Roland Thompson, of Santa Ana, defended Johnson in the case. The legal firm of Cooper and Hickman, of Pomona, represented the Southern Service company.

PHILHARMONIC ORGANIZED BY WILLIAM CLARK

The Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra, which will come to Santa Ana, under the auspices of the junior chamber of commerce, on Tuesday night, March 28, was organized in 1919 by William Andrews Clark Jr., who has been the sole guarantor of the orchestra since its inception.

Clark is a native of Montana and a man of broad interests and catholic tastes. His cultural activities are many and varied. He is broadly read and a book collector of note. He is the possessor of one of the largest libraries of rare editions of English literature in America. He also is deeply interested in astronomical research, maintaining, at his Los Angeles residence, a six-inch lens telescope which he generously donates for students' use and which the general public is welcome to visit by appointment.

Is Gifted Violinist
He is an extremely gifted violinist and was the founder of the Saint-Saens club, a chamber music organization that was the pioneer in Los Angeles of any serious effort in this most delightful form of musical presentation.

The founding of the philharmonic orchestra was determined by Clark only after long and mature deliberation and its successful evolution into one of the greatest musical organizations in America is due, in great part, to the intelligent devotion to an ideal and unswerving attention given to the institution by Clark and its board of directors.

With characteristic enthusiasm and thoroughness, then as now, he personally supervised the varied details of its many activities.

100 Musicians Employed
One hundred musicians are employed for the orchestra, 90 on regular contracts. It numbers among the members performers who are acknowledged the greatest on their instruments. In every particular that makes the orchestra great, the philharmonic is equal to any American orchestra.

Due to an extremely high artistic standard maintained, there is an average of three paid rehearsals to each revenue producing performance. The uniform form of contract entered into with the musicians permits of playing only 81 concerts per season of twenty-eight weeks.

Life insurance on the group plan is carried on all employees of the orchestra in amounts from $1000 to $2500, according to length of service, the premiums being paid by Clark.

Walter Henry Rothwell has been the director of the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra since its inception and has been engaged for the balance of Clark's guarantee. As director of the musical destinies of the philharmonic orchestra, Rothwell feels with keen sensibility the responsibilities that are his to guide.

Uphold Provisions On Flexible Tariff

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The U. S. court of customs appeals, has ruled that the so-called flexible tariff provisions of the 1922 tariff act are constitutional. The provisions permit the president to modify the tariff upward or downward after investigation, taking into account the differences of cost of production here and abroad.

PADDOCK ENTERED IN MEET AT COLISEUM

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25.—The A. U. relay carnival at the Los Angeles Coliseum tomorrow afternoon will give Southern California track and field event fans an opportunity of seeing how old rivals stack up in competition, and thus give the dopesters ample material for future predictions, erroneous though they may be.

Charley Paddock is entered in the 100-yard dash in which he holds the record. It will be the first time that he has performed the century this season in competition. Charley Borah, Trojan ace, will be another favorite in the sprints, with Murray Schultz, Caltech speed demon, among those present.

In the sprint relays, Paddock will pit his Mercury quartette against Smith, Parsons, House and Borah of the Trojans. Slow baton passing stands as a barrier against record shattering by either the Trojans or Mercuries.

Man's Body Found In Drained Canal

MADERA, Calif., Feb. 25.—The body of Alfonso Gregario, rancher, missing since Monday night, was found in a drained canal here.

There were no signs of violence on the body and a considerable sum of money was found in the pockets of his clothes.

Steve Amar, son-in-law of Gregario, has been held in the county jail here since officers started a search for Gregario. No charges have been filed against Amar, who was with Gregario the night he disappeared.

Will Sift Charges Against U. S. Judge

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The house judiciary committee has decided to investigate additional impeachment charges filed against Federal Judge Frank Cooper, northern district of New York, by Representative La Guardia, Republican, New York.

Levine Favorite In Bout At Holly

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25.—George Levine will enter the ring a favorite tonight over Paul De Hate in their battle of 10 rounds or less at Hollywood stadium.

WRIGHT, MOSS JOIN ANGELS; COX TO REPORT

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25.—Manager Marty Krug of the Los Angeles club is smiling again, the chief reason for the optimistic frame of mind being that Ray Moss and "Doc" Wright, twirlers, have reported at the Seraph camp.

Moss drove overland, and after shaking the dust of travel from his twirling arm yesterday donned a uniform and went through an impressive workout, showing that the acquisition from the Brooklyn appears to have been a wise one.

The entire Wright family came in aboard a transcontinental rattler from Big Stone Gap, Virginia, where "Doc" leaves extended business interests.

Dick Cox, outfielder, visited the Angel offices yesterday, after which it was reported that he will conclude his winter league ball this week, and report at Wrigley field Monday.

Veterans and recruits engaged in batting and infield practice yesterday, and it is probable that the Angel pilot will be putting them to more exhaustive tests in the next couple of days.

JOHN ANDERSON IMPRESSES AT HOLLYWOOD CAMP

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 25.—John Anderson is giving indications at the Hollywood Stars' training camp here that he will probably be among the leaders of the home-run fraternity when the Pacific Coast league season opens.

In yesterday's session "Big John" hoisted a couple of balls over the center garden wall, a distance greater than the like barrier at Wrigley field, the club's home grounds.

Tierney and Anderson reported to Manager Oscar Vitt yesterday, and will be on the job at their stations today.

The Stars meet Santa Monica Sunday in an exhibition game, and are rounding into shape for the opening series with the Chicago Cubs, March 11.

Hudkins, Colima Clash In Evening

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25.—Promoter Dick Donald has switched the Ace Hudkins-Bert Colima battle of March 5 from afternoon to evening, and as a result it is believed that the outstanding "natural" of the spring season will play to a capacity crowd at Wrigley field.

REALTOR JESS

JESS WILLARD
Selling real estate to future home-builders is the manner employed now by Jess Willard, former heavyweight champion, to earn his living. His huge size makes him tower well above his clients and rival salesmen, and no doubt makes him lots of sales. This photo was taken outside of his Los Angeles office.

PAOLINO HEAVY FAVORITE OVER KNUTE HANSEN

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Paolino, Spanish heavyweight and the claimant of the European heavyweight championship, was an 8 to 5 favorite to defeat Knute Hansen tonight in the second number of Tex Rickard's elimination tournament.

Because of his size and strength, more than an imposing record and because Hansen has the reputation of being shy in fighting spirit, Paolino was expected to win by a knockout, the critics figuring that Hansen would be sure to win on points if the bout went the limit.

Paolino's future as a championship fighter depends largely upon the size of his victory. If he wins quickly and impressively, Rickard plans to match him with Jim Loney, who eliminated Jack Delaney, and then match the victor in the Jack Sharkey-Mike McTigue match, which is to be staged next week.

DONS NOSE OUT POMONA FROSH ON CINDERPATH

The relay race, run by a baton quartette consisting of Ralph Rozelle, Mark Martin, Dick Ewert and Lon McIntire, won the first of the season's cinderpath meets for Coach Graham Harris' Santa Ana Junior college track team by garnering the necessary points to pile up a 58 to 59 victory over the Pomona college freshmen yesterday afternoon at Poly field.

Before the relay, Mitchell & close enough to make a 315 E. 3rd. deciding event or meats. Mitchell gram. Third St. Seed.

Several Santa Ana athletes entered at meats. Bee Hive Central Market.

The head hold Go Johnson was the act of "Tiny" Reinhardt, Santa Ana, in sailing the discus for a distance of 123 feet, 3 1-2 inches. It was on his last heave that he made his record, the best he has ever done.

High point honors were taken by Lloyd Morris, former track captain. He surprised the spectators by his 5 foot 6 inch high jump, winning first. Morris made a total of 10 points, in four field events.

Harvey Bear dashed to first in the century race in the time of 10.5 seconds. John Moffat won the high hurdles and Bill Warren the low stick race. Little Howard Paul, premier broad jumper of the Santa Ana high school in his prep days, easily won his event.

The results:

100 yard dash—Bear (HS) won; Gray (P) second; Moore (HS) third. Time—10.5 sec.

120 yard high hurdles—Moffat (HS) won; McMillan (SA) second; Wardwell (SA) third. Time—17 sec.

200 yard dash—Gray (P) won; Martin (SA) second; Van Rensselaer (SA) third. Time—25.5 sec.

800 yard run—Powell (P) won; Goddard (SA) second; Van Rensselaer (SA) third. Time—2 min. 13 sec.

220 yard dash—Gray (P) won; Martin (SA) second; Van Rensselaer (SA) third. Time—25.5 sec.

Shot put—Bright (P) won; Reinhardt (SA) second; Morris (SA) third. Distance—38 feet, 10 inches.

Broad jump—Paul (HS) won; King (P) second; Morris (SA) third. Distance—20 feet, 6 inches.

Pole vault—Rozelle (SA) won; Wardwell (SA) second; McMillan (SA) third. Height—9 feet, 6 inches.

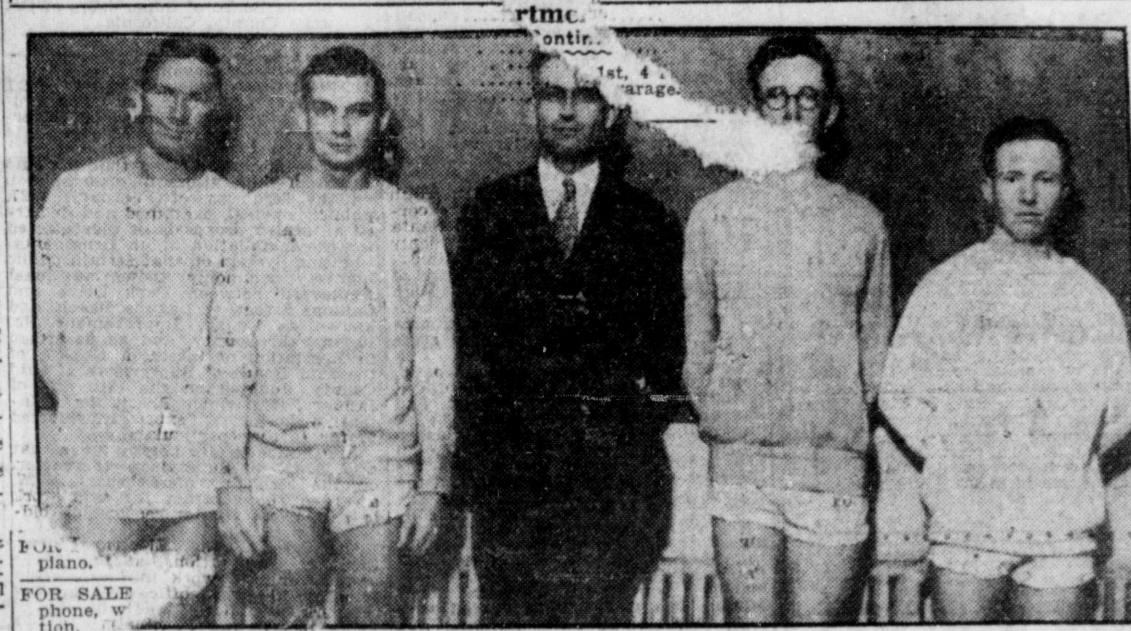

Discus—Reinhardt (SA) won; Morgan (P) second; Bright (P) third. Distance—123 feet, 3 1-2 inches.

High jump—Morris (SA) won; King (P) second; Morgan (P) third. Height—5 feet, 6 inches.

Javelin throw—Bright (P) won; Morris (SA) second; Morgan (P) third. Distance—123 feet, 3 1-2 inches.

Relay—won by Santa Ana (Rozelle, Martin, Ewert and McIntire). Time—1 min. 39.8 sec.

POLY ENTRIES FREE LAY CARNIVAL MEET

Santa Ana high school will enter but one team in the San Bernardino Orange Show Relay carnival tomorrow and it will be composed of Captain Harvey Bear, Harold Breeding, "Speedy" Fairchilds and Ted Stephenson. Poly will compete in the mile medley race, in which two men will run 220 yards, one 440 yards and one 880. Captain Bear, the best long school, has been shifted to the 440 for this test. Stephenson and Fairchilds will run 220 yard laps and Breeding will take care of the half-mile sorty.

JIMMY MALONEY, RING LATEST SEN

BOSTON, Feb. 25.—Lloyd James Maloney, pugilist sensation, may deserve the nickname "Dynamite Jim."

In the home, he's just gentle Jimmy.

Jack Delaney's conqueror is one young man (he is only 23) for whom domestic duties and the boxing business are not incompatible. The only indication of "dynamite" in big Jim's makeup, when a reporter called at his home was the industrious manner, in which South Boston's pride was applying a vacuum cleaner to a parlor carpet.

Apparently a little abashed at being surprised in such a task, the 200-pound-plus heavyweight hoped explained:

"I know you will excuse me. I have just been tidying up a bit. It may sound funny for a boxer, but I actually enjoy housework."

In his fastidiously furnished living room Maloney flopped on an overstuffed divan and, without so much as a split infinitive, began to talk in the carefully chosen language of the Tunney school of pugilism.

"You probably want to know what I do when I am not in the ring," suggested big Jim, who has been interviewed before. "Well, I enjoy the same. When I was in the army I played football. I still like football.

"To be perfectly frank, however, next to boxing I like house work best. I enjoy putting around the house, washing dishes, sweeping floors and picking up after the children."

Jim pointed with pride to his two children, Claire, who will be three in June, and Ruth, who will celebrate her first birthday next month.

Bashful, Claire did not enter the conversation except on one occasion, this was to point to her father's much discolored right eye and remark:

"See what Jack Delaney did to my daddy."

"My family thinks that I am some fighter," Maloney laughed. "You can't tell them that the next heavyweight champion won't be Jim Maloney. Personally I do not think they will be disappointed. I think I will be obliged to participate in only two more bouts—with Jack Sharkey and Jack Dempsey—before I have an opportunity to meet Gene Tunney."

Ruth's Salary Demand to Be Told Public

FOR RENT—New York, Feb. 25.—Babe Ruth is known Monday to Jacob Ruppberg, manager of the club.

"We may take the matter up then and have something to say," he said.

In reply to the ultimatum of the Babe that the Yankees would have to make known today the contents of a letter he claims to have mailed from California, Ed Barrow, business manager of the club, said no letter had been received from him.

Yankee Vanguard Off for Training

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Six of the first squad of the New York Yankees and the remaining members of the Giant contingent, leave today for their southern training camp.

FUENTE WINS ON FOUL

CULVER CITY, Feb. 25.—Tony Fuente, Mexican heavyweight, won on a foul over Benny Hill, Fresno batter, in the fifth round of the main event here last night.

CAPTAIN BEAR WILL RUN 440 LAP TOMORROW

Breeding, Stephenson and Fairchilds Also Entered In San Bernardino Race

A little band of four runners will be sole representatives of Santa Ana high school in the annual San Bernardino Orange Show Relay carnival tomorrow afternoon, a meet that usually affords Poly athletes their first strenuous workout of the season.

Lack of training time caused Coach "Tex" Oliver to enter but one relay team in this year's classic, which, incidentally, was postponed from last Saturday because of storm conditions.

Oliver selected his quartette late yesterday, deciding to enter the mile medley relay with "Speedy" Fairchilds and Ted Stephenson carrying the baton for the two 220 yard distance. Captain Harvey Bear taking up the burden for 440 yards and Harold Breeding finishing over the 880 yard route.

Bear, the premier Poly sprinter and one of the foremost interscholastic speed merchants in the state, will be running his first competitive quarter-mile in this affair but Coach Oliver believes Bear can hold his own with any one-lap stepsters in these parts.

Breeding is normally a miler and the 880 will be something new to the long-legged grind campaigner but he is experienced enough to regulate his timing to the conditions and certainly has the speed and ability to make most of the prep half-miles bend their backs to "take" him.

Stephenson and Fairchilds are less experienced but they have displayed plenty of speed this season and Oliver is confident they will turn in creditable performances.

Ray Adkinson, former Poly track tutor, will have charge of the little Poly entourage as Coach Oliver will accompany the local basketball quintette south tonight for its final league fracas in San Diego tomorrow.

Meet Long Beach Monday

Santa Ana's initial Coast Preparatory league dual meet will be held at Long Beach next Monday afternoon. The Jackrabbits will be heavy favorites to emerge victorious in this affair and reports of workout marks and times that have filtered into the local camp haven't altered the odds.

It would appear that Breeding, Santa Ana's crack miler, who was the second best prep four-lapper in California in 1926, has his work cut out for him. Don Hall, Long Beach sophomore, who recently won a cross-country race against some strong runners, was clocked in 4 minutes, 45 seconds in a practice spin day before yesterday and if he can repeat that in actual competition he may lead Breeding who is hardly in condition this early in the year to get down to that time.

Maltby and Cloninger, Jackrabbit vaulters, already have cleared 11 feet, 6 inches, which is considerably higher than the best Santa Ana bamboo-climber has cleared. Ballou high-jumped 5 feet, 10 inches in practice yesterday and Barber threw the discus 119 feet.

Delaney's Thumb, Elbow Fractured

ON TOP OF WORLD

Jim Maloney is temporarily at least sitting on the top of the world. His victory over Jack Delaney keeps him in the spotlight as a probable contender for Gene Tunney's title.

It is said that Jim Maloney received $35,000 as the end of the meeting with Delaney. Maloney would have had to sell a lot of fish, fresh or otherwise, to have accumulated that profit.

The career of Jim Maloney, at least his comeback, is more or less a fish story and what is more surprising, it's true.

A year ago at this time Jim Maloney was peddling fish in the outland city of Boston and he wasn't making anything like $35,000 a year out of it.

UPSETS RICKARD'S PLANS

In giving thought to the unearthing of an opponent for Gene Tunney, Tex Rickard never considered Mr. Maloney of South

Boston. He was positive he had discovered such a person in Harry Persson, one of those foreign

JUNIORS TAKE FIRST HOCKEY TIEFF AT POLY

Playing the first of the double round of interclass hockey games, the junior co-ed stick wielders defeated the senior girls by a score of 4 to 1 yesterday afternoon at Santa Ana high school and became favorites to capture the interclass championship as they did in basketball.

Miss Sherrill Spurgeon and Miss Rovena Cone scored the juniors' points. Three goals were scored in rapid succession in the first period as the junior forwards penetrated the seniors' defense and drove the pelleted ball into the wire enclosure.

Although the seniors displayed equally good teamwork with such veterans as the Misses Gayle Baldwin, Virginia Brannon and Helen Richards in the lineup, they were unable to press through at critical times for a goal. Both the Misses Mary Ford and Josephine Ball starred at goal for the rival teams.

Miss Helen Richards scored the single senior goal.

At the close of the contests between the three class teams, a school squad will be organized to meet the hockey organizations of other county high schools. The county interschool schedule begins March 15. Santa Ana has games with Huntington Beach, Anaheim, Fullerton and Orange.

FROM PILLS TO PRIZE RING

A leading contender for the featherweight title is "Doc" Snell of Peshastun, Wash. When not performing in the ring "Doc" is the village pill roller. That is how he got his nicknames.

He is proprietor of what he says is the only real drug store in the burg. Snell believes in advertising and works it double. His cards read:

"From pills to prize ring and a kayo in either hand. Take it or leave it."

Billy Evans Says

champions, which would give the bout an international flavor.

A match with Jim Maloney against Persson was regarded as mere building up for a championship contest, just a little Rickard ballyhoo.

As it happened, Maloney completely upset Rickard's plans by decisively defeating Persson, thereby forcing recognition from Rickard and cutting himself in for a lot of dough.

It looks as if his next bout would be at the Yankee stadium with Jack Sharkey, who is soon to meet Mike McFigue, the rejuvenated Irishman. Sharkey should win.

Sharkey, by the way, has twice beaten Maloney.

BERLENBACH'S CAREER

It is surprising how some of these near champions and champions get their inspiration as ring performers.

Take the case of Paul Berlenbach, former light heavyweight champion. No fighter every acquired fame so quickly. He dropped it nearly as fast.

Berlenbach before taking up the fight game as a business was a taxi driver. There doesn't seem to be any connection between the two, but for Paul there was.

"I used to drive a taxi," explains Berlenbach, "Fares were were hard-boiled. I slip slightly when I talk. Possibly the passengers couldn't understand me. Anyway I got into a lot of fights trying to collect the money due me. I finally decided if I was going to fight once a week I might as well do it in the ring and get paid for it."

He did and became a champion.

STRONG ON VAULTERS

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25.—Three all-American prep pole vaulters are now at Southern California with the entrance this month of Bill Hubbard, of San Diego, 1926 choice. Lee Barnes made the team in 1924 and Jack Williams in 1925.

Johnny Vacca to Box In England

BOSTON, Feb. 25.—Johnny Vacca, of Brighton, the unknown who defeated Fidel La Barba, world flyweight champion, in a recent bout, will fight in England April 21.

The diminutive Italian has agreed to fight 20 rounds with an opponent not yet named. Elky Clark may be the opponent. Vacca has been given a guarantee of $60,000, it was reported.

The flyweight title was not at stake when Vacca won the decision over La Barba.

Here's One for Book; Crooke To Umpire On Coast

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25.—The Pacific Coast league will have a Crooke among its nine umpires this season. President Harry Williams has all but completed a deal to land the Crooke.

After handling the indicator in the International league for many years and still under option in that circuit Tom Crooke, if secured by the Coast league will umpire the games held around San Francisco bay, alternating with regularly assigned umpires to Oakland and San Francisco, so that he may be sent either north or south in emergency.

STATE SPECIALIST
STUDIES TRACHOMA

Trachoma, insidious eye disease, is more prevalent in California than is generally known and in some places the disease threatens to become a serious health, economic and social problem, according to Dr. Charles H. Halliday, epidemiologist of the California state board of health, now visiting this city on official business.

Dr. Halliday arrived here from Imperial county to confer with Dr. V. G. Prosser, county health officer, regarding the trachoma situation in La Habra and other points in the county. Following an inspection trip throughout the county, the state official voiced his approval of the measures adopted by the county health department to eradicate the disease.

Dr. Halliday is affiliated with the Rockefeller foundation. For a number of years he was connected with the health service of the Philippine government. During and immediately following the World war, he was serving in Europe.

During the last year, Dr. Halliday has undertaken extensive investigations into trachoma, as it exists in California and particularly in Imperial county.

Bay City-London
Phone Service to Start Saturday

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25.—Effective Saturday, direct communication, by wire and radio will be established between San Francisco and London, officials of the American Telephone and Telegraph company announced.

The transcontinental and transmarine service between the two points will provide the world's longest inter-communication telephone circuit, a distance of 6367 miles.

Tolls will be $87 for the first three minutes and $29 for each minute thereafter. And if your friend in "dear old London" is "out" the report fee will be $10.

George Washington had smallpox as a boy while visiting the Barbadoes.

Why don't the people in theaters sing when those illustrated songs are shown? Only songs known to most everybody are chosen and every angle is taken advantage of to get the people in the audience to open their mouths, but nobody does. I figured out three reasons. In the first place, the song film lacks the personal touch. It is too mechanical to excite the vocal powers. A leader would help. In the second place, the filming of the songs, which are reproduced on the same principal of animated cartoons doesn't just fit to the actual playing of the notes on the organ. In the third place, when you sit in the theater you don't know your neighbor and are shy about singing, for fear the result may not be too good and the resultant hand-to-mouth publicity may not reflect any glory upon the singer.

The remarks in this column last week concerning a projected Orange county motion picture news reel struck home at an unexpected point. It seems that two groups were considering the plan at the same time. One group had done considerably more investigating than the other. The group of which I write, and which had investigated only a little, gave up at the outset. The other group, including two motion picture operators, figured it out so that it could be done at a much lower cost than was printed here last week. When the item came out, members of the more earnestly concerned group accused each other of breaking the promise of silence. And it was not that group that I was talking about at all. This motion picture crowd is sticking to the proposition. Just now it is in need of a super-power salesman. It believes it has the cost down to the minimum.

I wonder what became of that project to tear up to street car tracks on North Main street and run busses to Orange? The plan was, I think, to widen the street and make it an attractive boulevard for the entrance into the city. Worse things could be imagined than a pleasing, unscarred boulevard into Santa Ana. Worse things could be done than to persuade some of the owners of vacant lots along North Main street to cut the grass and weeds. Worse things could be done than to persuade some of the chicken ranch people, hot dog people and other stand proprietors to inject a little art into their signs. Some of them appear as if they were the prize products of the kindergarten class in sign writing. Oh, yes, a lot of things could be done, but they won't be done because there isn't any way to do them. It is impossible to legislate ambition into the human breast. At best, a law is nothing more than a regulation. Civic education might do some good, but hard working people who have to put in long hours don't have time for civic education.

The two divisions of the chamber of commerce are just now approaching their annual elections. After those events, it is confidently hoped that new blood will have been injected into the respective boards and that a little more honest effort will be expended by those in whose hands the destinies of the organization will have been placed. One suggestion that may be carried out for regular membership meetings by the senior division. A practice unheard of in Santa Ana for years. Men with something worth while to say on matters of current interest. The membership would be taken from the phantom class to that of flesh and blood. Secretary George Raymer is said to have a comprehensive program which he will submit. And it might be said that there are many business men, young and not so young, who should be members of the chamber of commerce who are not.

FARM BUREAU LAW
PROGRAM OUTLINED

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 25.—The California Farm Bureau federation, following a three-day conference here, announced the proposed legislation it will support or oppose during the present session of the state law makers.

Among the bills to be opposed are the $50,000,000 and $25,000,000 highway construction bond measures; daylight savings bill; limiting number of cars on street; the bill providing a six-day week for farm labor; compulsory automobile insurance and annual auto operators' license fee.

Major issues to receive support include the federal plan of reorganization; the oleomargarine bill; placing farmers under compensation act; credit union bill; general revision of standardization act and compulsory budget of county expenditure.

Mr. and Mrs. Spitzer and three children, of Long Beach, are newcomers in the community, having taken up their residence at the Long Beach ranch. Mr. Spitzer is employed in the Huntington Beach oil fields and Mrs. Spitzer is a nurse.

Gladys Wilcox is ill at her home with the measles.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gardner are having considerable improvement work done in their home and among the modern conveniences installed is a composition sink, which is being built into the kitchen by Lefe Ross, of this place.

Johnson, Norris,
LaFollette, Lead
Battle for Dam

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—"Hi Johnson, George Norris and Bob LaFollette"—foremost among senate warriors, now make up a triumvirate leading the senate fight for the Swing-Johnson Boulder canyon dam bill.

Senator Hiram Johnson, Republican, California, earned his chevrons in the famous senate battle over the Versailles treaty as an irreconcilable leader.

Senator George Norris, Republican, Nebraska, led the fight which overthrew "Cannonism" in the house of representatives, 15 years ago, and is regarded as a skilled parliamentary tactician.

Senator Robert M. LaFollette Jr., Republican, Wisconsin, son of "Fighting Bob," is in his first big fight, but he has won a position alongside the two older leaders by his display of courage, fighting spirit and skill.

The three never left the senate during the session, which stopped temporarily after 30 hours and 15 minutes of continuous session, at 3:15 p. m., Wednesday.

Johnson is 61 and Norris is 66 years old. "Young Bob" is 32.

Shipwreck Will Return to U. S.

SEATTLE, Feb. 25.—Three scientists, two lay assistants and the crew of men, composing those on board the fishing boat Scandia, which sank at the mouth of the Klaskan river, Alaska, will return to Seattle, March 8, aboard the Admiral Watson, according to dispatches received here.

The Scandia sailed from Seattle a month ago.

The members of the party include: F. H. Bell, graduate of the university of British Columbia, a scientist in charge of the expedition. Richard H. Butt, son of W. H. Butt, Seattle, science assistant. Harry Hansen, University of Washington, science graduate. Olaf Erickson and Louis Nelson, fishing expert and lay assistant. O. O. Hvatum, Seattle, master of the Scandia.

The prefix "Mac" in a name means "son of."

BREA

BREA, Feb. 25.—Members of the Ladies' Aid society of the Christian church met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. F. J. Schweitzer for a day of work and pleasure. Morning hours were devoted to sewing for the Massey Old Ladies' home at Long Beach. Pot-luck luncheon was served at noon, at which time games and contests of various kinds were enjoyed. At the business meeting which followed, Mrs. Winnifred Gurley was elected president of the society, taking the place of Mrs. Clara McClure, resigned, and Mrs. Reulah Reese was elected as secretary to take the place left vacant by the removal of Mrs. Jesse Gill to the ranch home recently purchased by the Gills near Fullerton. An all day meeting of the society is scheduled for next Wednesday in the church rooms.

After a stay of six weeks at her old home in Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, where she was called by the serious illness of a sister, Mrs. W. E. Fanning returned to her home in Brea Wednesday. Mrs. Fanning reports her sister somewhat improved but still far from well.

Thomas Wright, who has been visiting frequently in the home of Mrs. Marian Epla, left on Wednesday for his home in Montana, thus ending a vacation period of 30 days.

Mrs. W. H. Price has returned to her home at Catalina after a week spent with Mr. and Mrs. John Pfeiffer. Mrs. Price and Mrs. Pfeiffer were school friends in Maryland.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Brea Chamber of commerce, held in Craig's hall this week, Ed. P. Eason, editor of the Brea Progress, was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of W. D. Shaffer, president of the body. The temporary election of Eason to the position of president of this body will hold until the regular election in April.

Mrs. A. D. Yost, president of the Laurel Parent-Teacher association, announces an entertainment to be given in the kindergarten rooms of the Laurel school building on the evening of March 8. Songs, choruses, recitations and dancing and a two-act comedy will feature the program. Tickets may be had from any member or can be secured at the door.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Noblett, of Toledo, Ohio, the former a nephew of Mrs. F. J. Schweitzer, spent several hours Thursday at the Schweitzer home. It was the first time they had met in several years and the visit was one of genuine surprise and pleasure. After returning to their home for the settlement of business affairs, Mr. and Mrs. Noblett may return to California permanently.

Through the courtesy of P. R. Bennett, of the Bennett Radio Shop, pupils of the local high school, the seventh, eighth and opportunity days given before congress Tuesday, by President Coolidge eulogizing George Washington. Mr. Bennett connected a radio with electric light fixtures in the auditorium of the Brea grammar school.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Carlo, until recently proprietors of the fruit and vegetable concession of the west side Safeway store, are now living in Los Angeles, where Mr. Carlo has accepted a position as auditor at the Bible Institute.

After eight years as proprietors of the Brea bakery, Mr. and Mrs. George Schuppert have leased their business for a term of three years and will at once retire to their ranch near Escondido for a much needed rest and change. Mr. and Mrs. M. Bechel, of Los Angeles, are the new proprietors and with their family will occupy the living quarters over the bakery. They are bakers of 15 years experience.

Speaking of Clotures, Etc.

EX-SENATOR SMITH KNOWS WHAT'S GOING ON

Peddlers Like Local Corner

By The Rambler

In Washington—forensic leaders, talking razors, auto polish or tube of the nation orate and plan strategies. . . . The United States senate, the most august body in the world, remains in session continuously for 30 hours and 15 minutes while representative maneuver for advantages. . . . Hiram W. Johnson, respected and colorful solon from the Golden West, shakes a long finger in the faces of political antagonists and shouts that never will he forsake the fight for "the women and children of Imperial valley." . . . The foremost legislative battle of a decade is being waged.

In Santa Ana—Thousands of miles from the "war front." . . . A peaceful city ponders gravely over vague legislative terms and religiously interprets their meaning. . . . Newspapers are full of late bulletins. . . . Filibusters. . . . Cloture. . . . Boulder dam. . . . Quorum calls. . . . Petitions.

In Santa Ana, a man reads these bulletins—closes his eyes—sighs a little, perhaps, as reminiscences flood his memory.

He knows his filibuster, his cloture, his quorum call.

He remembers the strategems, the schemes and the spoils.

He even knows—you know—sort of wishes the calendar was turned back and he was in there himself again—planning, thinking, fighting!

William Alden Smith, ex-senator from Michigan, and the central figure in the senatorial inquisition into the Titanic disaster some 15 years ago, knows what is going on in Washington these days. But while the senators scheme and plot and think, the ex-senator from Michigan reads his paper here in Santa Ana, just like the rest of us, and wonders what they will do about it and puts down his paper again and thinks—thinks about when he and the junior senator from Delaware and the senior senator from North Dakota—but that is none of your business.

William Alden Smith, one time Western Union messenger carrier, newspaper hawk and state legislature page, saw more than a decade in the United States senate. He called Roosevelt Teddy and hobnobbed with fat William Howard Taft. He was "in" on the secrets of presidents and ambassadors. He was the "big boy" of the senate.

The ex-senator from Michigan is visiting his sister, Ella Campbell, 801 French street, and will soon return to Grand Rapids, where he has large financial interests. He likes Santa Ana and is an annual visitor in our midst.

He reads of filibusters and clotures and quorum calls and all that sort of thing. He likes them. He would like to be back up there, just for a bit, while all this battling is going on, because he looks at the world through ex-senators' glasses—and everything is rosy now.

... If tomorrow is a clear day and "the boys" don't think the field is temporarily overworked and finally milked—saunter past the corner of Fourth street and Broadway and have a look at Santa Ana's "sidewalk peddling district."

There, if the day is right, you'll see on every corner glib-tongued young men who would make some of the Boulder dam debate principals sick—if the debaters were

'He Who Serves Best, Profits Most'

GEORGE WASHINGTON succeeded in business and in politics because he served well, all the people.

He carried his ideals of justice, truth and service through his private life and his public duties.

Service was his sole interest. Welfare of all the people was his real concern. And in serving well he gave us ideals which today are still guiding our statesmen in political affairs at home and abroad.

Joe Daley

It is equally true today, as then, that individuals or organizations grow only by giving genuine, honest service to the public they serve.

KILL Snails or Slugs

Operating at night, these slimy pests eat the tenderest shoots of your favorite flowers and garden plants. Stop them with SNAROL, a new insecticide. Its results are guaranteed.

AT this very moment, perhaps on your property, these plant destroyers are multiplying by the hundreds. Thus, if you don't take prompt action to rid your place of these pests, they may even wipe out your choicest flowers and vegetable gardens.

Act NOW. Use SNAROL! You'll find it the most effective method you've ever tried to eliminate snails and slugs.

SNAROL is a meal food ready for use. You merely sprinkle it around on flowers and under shrubs. It is not soluble in water—and will not injure any plant or newly sprouted vegetable. Economical, too—because SNAROL lasts a long time.

The snails and slugs eat it—overnight they disappear.

SNAROL is also effective against cutworms, sowbugs, earwigs and grasshoppers.

Destroy all these pests before they multiply. Start using SNAROL today.

Most seed, hardware, drug and grocery stores handle SNAROL. If you cannot secure it from your dealer, write us direct and we'll see that you are supplied.

CENTRAL FIGURE IN BOOZE RING HUNTED

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25.—Capt. George Ford, central figure in the "10,000,000 rum ring" investigation on the Pacific coast, is the object of an international man hunt.

Following Ford's failure to appear for trial Monday, on charges of conspiring to smuggle liquor into this country from Canada, he is believed to have jumped bail of $7500 and fled. It was admitted at the United States district attorney's office here.

Ford and three others were to have been tried in connection with the activities of the rum ships Quadra, Mahalet and Federal, operating, it is alleged, for the Canadian Exporters, Ltd.

According to federal authorities, these ships, which were captured by prohibition authorities, were operating out of Vancouver with cargoes destined for Mexico. The liquor cargoes, however, were smuggled into the United States along the Pacific coast, federal agents allege.

REPORT ISSUED ON HYDRAULIC MINING

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 25.—California can produce $23,133,000 in gold in the next 20 years through revival of hydraulic mining by construction of storage reservoirs for hydraulic debris on the American, Yuba and Bear rivers, it was revealed in the report to the legislature of the California hydraulic mining commission.

The commission, authorized by the 1925 legislature, and including Surveyor-General W. S. Kingsbury and State Mineralogist Lloyd L. Root, recommended a $2,405,000 program of dam construction, which would result in an immediate annual production of gold exceeding $1,150,000 in value.

The total expense, however, should be divided between the federal government and the state, the commissioners said.

HANSEN

HANSEN, Feb. 25.—The P. T. A. of the Savanna school held its monthly meeting on Washington's birthday. The children of the school gave a patriotic program. Luncheon was served. The date of the meetings have been changed and from now on the P. T. A. will meet on the third Thursday of each month.

Charles Korn, of the Magnolia road, is building a new stucco house near Hansen on Western avenue. His intention is to move his dairy here.

John Campbell spent last week at Fontana, where he attended to business for the Superior Egg farm.

Mrs. D. D. Elsworth, of the Bullock's store, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sawtelle.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Kelsor, of Los Angeles, spent Tuesday of this week with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Burch and her mother, Mrs. Havens.

Richard Clark, who delivers the Santa Ana Register in Stanton and Hansen, has been ill with bronchitis, brought on by exposure at the time of the flood. His father, T. W. Clark, has been taking care of his paper route for him.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Warren and two sons, of Huntington Beach, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Burch.

Mrs. J. J. McInnis, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. W. W. Long, of Billings, Mont., who is spending some time with her, drove to Glendale on Wednesday of this week to visit her niece, Mrs. Louise Ketchum.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Wonderly spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Oskar Tucker, at Lynwood. This week end they expect to drive to San Diego.

Mrs. S. R. Snow, of Los Angeles, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. T. W. Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. V. Windle, of Huntington Beach, were callers on Monday at the W. L. Burch home and on Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Lindstrom, of Compton, were callers.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Birt and two sons, Maurice and John, of Huntington Park, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Mark Nordstrom and George Trigg. Mr. Birt had just returned from a trip to San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Treffer, of Santa Ana, spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. George Treffer.

Mrs. Neubeau, living on South Los Angeles street, who was taken to the Anaheim sanitarium last week, where she underwent an operation for appendicitis, is doing well and will be brought home soon.

Mrs. W. L. Maurer had as Sunday guests, Mr. and Mrs. Fulcher, of Glendale and Mr. and Mrs. F. Mendenhall and Mr. and Mrs. W. sPowell, of Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Fulcher, of Glendale, took her father, P. Chase, of Long Beach, who had been spending several weeks with another daughter, Mrs. Maurer, home with them for a visit.

Mrs. Jay Miser and infant daughter, born February 15 at the Community hospital in Anaheim, were brought home on Wednesday. While Mrs. Miser has been away, her sister, Mrs. Orta Fish of Grand Rapids, Mich., has been caring for her family.

Mrs. J. Evans and daughter, Mabel, of Long Beach, visited her sister, Mrs. W. L. Maurer, on Tuesday.

Charles Eckert had the misfortune to cut off a finger while closing a garage door one day last week.

Herman Sacht attended a masquerade ball in Anaheim on the eve of Washington's birthday.

Bronchitis has been prevalent among the children of Hansen. Among those having it were Ellen Jane Peters, Ella Mary Ellen and Billie Burch.

Exclusive Croesley, Garling's.

Famous Streets in Los Angeles Carry Flood of Traffic

Los Angeles has more concrete streets than any other city in the country—a total of 350 miles.

All of these streets are carrying a steadily increasing volume of traffic, and are doing so with very little maintenance.

Some of them are famous thoroughfares representing the most advanced type of paving construction.

They include Vine Street, "The Highway of the Movie Stars," Franklin Avenue, one of Hollywood's fine residential streets, Cahuenga Avenue, the main artery leading into Los Angeles from the San Fernando Valley, and Hill Street from Washington to Santa Barbara Avenue.

It will pay other cities and towns to make a careful study of Los Angeles' advanced practice in permanent street paving.

Property owners and local authorities are invited to write to this office for the facts. Also ask for your copy of our free booklet on "Concrete Streets."

The half-a-day man

For months he had hated to face it... He was slipping. Losing out. He who once had shown such shining promise! His old-time vigor had gone. Ambition, itself! What had happened? He seemed to grow weary before the day was half-way through! What curse was befalling his life?

Constipation blights many a bright career. It destroys initiative. It weakens the body and leads to disease after disease. Yet, constipation can be relieved—safely, permanently. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to give relief!

Why part-bran products are ineffective

Doctors recommend ALL-BRAN because it is 100% bran. They know that 100% bran means 100% results! Here is why:

ALL-BRAN carries through the system moisture which its "bulk" absorbs. And it gently distends the intestines—cleansing, removing wastes. ALL-BRAN contains sufficient "bulk" to perform this work—because it is 100% bran. In a part-bran product the quantity of bulk is too small to be entirely effective.

Don't risk dangerous drugs

ALL-BRAN works as nature does. How different from pills and drugs whose dose must be constantly increased.

Serve ALL-BRAN with milk or cream—and add fruits or honey. Let it soak a few moments to bring out its nut-like flavor. Mix it with other cereals. Use it in soups. Try the recipes on every package.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the original 100% bran. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Comes ready to eat. Sold by all grocers. Served by hotels, restaurants. On diners.

PLAYERS BUSY PRACTICING ON PRESENTATION

Scarcely was "Enter Madame," Santa Ana Community Players' first offering of the season, off the boards at the Temple theater, until rehearsals for the second production, "The Whole Town's Talking," were under way, with George Gerwing directing.

The aim of the association and its director is to offer plays of as varied types as possible, and plays that are certain to prove entertaining to the audience. For that reason, the John Emerson-Anita Loos farce was selected as the second play of the season, because of its well known laugh-provoking qualities.

With all its amusing situations and clever lines, the play is as "clean as a hound's tooth," as critics declared, and has been one of the biggest farces hits ever produced. It will be given at the Temple theater, on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights, beginning with March 8.

The cast will offer a pleasant mingling of old favorites among the Players, and a judicious selection of new faces. Among the members of the "old guard" to take part will be Joseph Peterson, who has had an enviable success in every role yet undertaken and who will play "Chester Riney," and Harry Brackett, noted as one of the Players' finest character actors, who will take the part of "Henry Simmons." James Duggan, too, has met with success in former productions, especially in "The Bad Man," in which he took prominent part, and Miss Mabel Pruitt, as "Ethel Simmons," will be remembered for her work in former plays.

Miss Ethel Osterman, who made her bow to Community play audiences in "Enter Madame" as the very clever secretary, will take the part of "Annie" (a maid), in the new production. Others to be introduced will be Julia Hyde, as Mrs. Henry Simmons, playing opposite Harry Brackett; Lawrence Phillips, as "Roger Shields"; Mary Arnold, as "Sally Otis"; Mary Clanton, as "Lila Wilson"; Lavina O'Toole, as "Lettie Lythe" (a movie star), and Melvina Frye, as "Sadie Bloom."

Rehearsals are of almost nightly occurrence now at the Temple theater, and Gerwing feels certain that he will have quite as popular a play to offer patrons as "Enter Madame" proved to be.

'BIG THREE' WILL HEAD BIBLE CLASS

The "big three" of the Men's Community Bible class, Clayton, Cox and Porter, will be the principals at the Sunday morning meeting of the class, to be held in the West-Coast Walker theater, according to announcement today by W. B. Martin, class president.

The Rev. F. T. Porter will give his regular 15-minute address before the class. Cox will have a reading and lesson and Herschel Clayton will be in charge of the song service.

All men in the city are invited to attend. Kenneth Workman will sing several selections.

Santa Ana, February 25.

Dear Lois: We had such a thrilling adventure Sunday that I feel sure you will enjoy hearing about it.

The world looked so lovely after its recent drenching that we fared forth along the Santiago canyon road to look at it—and oh! my dear, the hills are beautiful now. They are covered with green velvet grass and golden mustard and the sycamores are just putting on their new, pale green, leaves. I remember that somewhere in the Bible it says, "The little hills rejoice on every side," and I am sure that whoever wrote that must have seen the little hills in the springtime, with the sun shining upon them.

There is a certain hill that in our family we call "Johnny-jump-up hill," because the gay yellow pansy-faced blossoms grow so thickly there. A hundred times or more we have turned off the pavement and driven down a little, wandering road that takes us near the foot of the hill. Sunday afternoon, quite as usual, we turned down the little road—such a good, innocent, dry-looking little road—and rolled along comfortably for about the length of a city block, when quite suddenly the bottom dropped completely out from under us and we were up to the car's running boards in mud.

We all—my uncle, my aunt, Katie and I—got out to look at the car, which, like England's sun, was slowly setting—don't you remember "Cutey Shall Not Ring Tonight?" My uncle said "H'm," and he took off his hat and walked around the car. Then he said "H'm!" in a deeper tone and took off his coat and vest and walked around again. Then he murmured something to himself and took off his collar and tie.

"Looks as if we were stuck," ventured one of us cheerfully, if not brilliantly.

"There are certain times," said my uncle to the universe at large, "when a man desires no assistance and no no advice."

"I have but one piece of advice to offer, and offer it I shall, though the heavens fall and the earth swallow me up," said my aunt bravely (she is hardly terrified of my uncle at all) "and that is—send for a truck!"

And then, in a voice quivering with suppressed emotion and the traditional, though still unleashed fury of the well-known patient man my uncle announced, "I do not want a truck. I do not need advice and all I ask is to be left alone, just—absolutely—alone!"

"It is not good that man should be alone," said my aunt in a discreet murmur to Katie and me, "but bear witness, he is bringing it upon himself. Children, flee from the wrath to come!"

So Katie and I took to our heels. We went over the hilltop and gathered our hands full of the gay little Johnny-jump-ups and we wandered about and talked and enjoyed ourselves, when, suddenly I discovered that we had been gone over an hour and, thinking my uncle would be impatiently waiting for us, we hurried to the top of the hill.

There was our car—but instead of my poor, dear uncle, who had asked of high heaven the one precious boon of solitude, there was what appeared to be a mob scene from a Hollywood studio and enough cars parked around—at a safe distance from the treacherous little road—to fill all of Santa Ana's streets. There were scores of men, women and children. There were men with ropes, with chains, with shovels and men with small cars, middle-sized cars and large cars and even a bicycle or two.

We discovered my aunt on the outermost fringe of the crowd, giving a perfectly lady-like and correct imitation of a politely but casually—very casually—interested spectator and Katie and I had to giggle when we heard a woman say, "Do you know whose car it is?" and my aunt answered, "I think it belongs to that moist gentleman in the shirtsleeves and the gray hat."

Several cars tried their best to pull us out. A snorty little red roadster, with a black band painted around its middle, tried its best, but an ant might as well have tried to pull an elephant out of a hole. Then a larger car valiantly puffed and pulled and pulled and puffed and, for its pains, found itself through the dry crust and stuck in another mud hole. Finally, after another hour's digging and bridge building and expert engineering, an even larger car roared and plunged and tore us loose.

We entered the trenches at 2:45 and we were taken out at exactly 6 o'clock. For three hours we furnished excitement, interest, amusement and occupation for a large part of the population of Orange county and the only reason all the population wasn't there for the finish was because it had begun to grow chilly and women with babies began to say to their husbands, "We must get Ethelbert home before he takes cold."

I almost forgot to tell you about one little car that stopped to look us over. First there climbed out a large man, then a slender woman, then a dear little girl, a woolly black dog and eight little boys. They just seemed to boil up out of every corner of that little car and they streamed out over the landscape in every direction at once.

with the little black dog, whose name was Cookie, yapping joyously and growing perfectly dizzy trying to make up his mind which one to follow, or whether to try to follow them all at once. They reminded us of the children that came out of the famous shoe of "Mother Goose."

When finally we got aboard for home, Katie and I had to have a little giggle or so every time we looked at my poor, dishevelled-looking uncle.

"Hush or you'll both get spanked," warned my aunt, but my uncle just smiled a pale and funny smile. "We just started on our 13th thousandth mile when I turned off the highway," he said, "I knew something was bound to happen."

Isn't that enough excitement for one day? Certainly we all thought that it was.

Love,

Lois.

Fairly close neighbors as they were, George Washington and Thomas Jefferson never saw each other after Washington retired from the presidency, nearly three years before his death. They were not on friendly terms at that period.

Y. M. C. A. Boys Frolic Friday, Saturday Nights

Boys of the Y.M.C.A. will enjoy their usual monthly affairs this evening and tomorrow evening. Boys' Secretary T. P. McKee announced today that the younger boys of his department will meet tonight from 6:45 to 8:45 o'clock for a general good time. The first item on the program is a swim, which being an extra privilege, is expected to be appreciated by all the boys. Following the swim, there will be motion pictures, including two reels of lively comedy and two travel pictures. Other features of the program are music and entertainment numbers, followed by refreshments at the close of the evening. Saturday evening, boys 12 years old and older will have a special program, which will resemble in some respects, the one planned for tonight for the younger boys.

SAFEGWAY STORES

DISTRIBUTION WITHOUT WASTE

The Difference in "Service"

There is a noticeable difference between the service rendered by the Safeway Man and the manner in which the ordinary grocery clerk "waits on" you. The reason for this difference lies in the mental "attitude" of each toward his work. The Safeway Man is in the food distributing business because he LIKES it. It is his deliberately chosen vocation and the service he renders is based upon a feeling of actual interest in and consideration for his patrons. His is the artisan's "pride of craftsmanship" and he has willingly undergone a long period of intensive training in order that the service he renders may measure up to the ideals of the institution of which he is a part. Contrast the courteous helpfulness of the Safeway Man with the careless indifference of the man who is merely "clerking" because circumstances force him to follow such work. The immeasurable advantage of dealing with the Safeway Man will be readily apparent. Also, you will more readily understand why our stores are so popular with discriminating housewives.

PROPOSED LAW ON SEALS HIT AT SEAL BEACH

SEAL BEACH, Feb. 25.—Directors of the Seal Beach Chamber of Commerce are opposed to slaughter of the seals such as would be possible if the Keaton bill, now pending in the state legislature, becomes a law. A special meeting of the chamber of commerce was held this week at which resolutions were adopted protesting against passage of the Keaton bill.

It is contended that the seals are a decided asset to Southern California, bringing many tourists who come especially to see them. Thousands of people come to Seal Beach every year to see the seal herd in the channel of Alamitos bay, it is disclosed. The same is true of Seal Rock at Catalina island and Seal Rocks at San Francisco.

The chamber of commerce resolution states that more fish are wasted every day by the fishermen and the packing houses than all of the seals consume. A copy of the resolution will be sent to similar organizations asking them to take favorable action upon it.

The Seal Beach Woman's Improvement club will conduct a campaign of education in opposition to the Keaton bill.

GANAHL ELECTED LAND FIRM HEAD

ANAHEIM, Feb. 25.—Ernest Ganahl, prominent Anaheim lumberman, was elevated to the presidency of the Anaheim Community Land company at an organization meeting held yesterday at the city hall. Ganahl, formerly vice president, succeeds William Stark as head of the company.

Other officers named were M. E. Beebe, vice president; H. A. Hawley, treasurer, and George W. Reid, secretary. Reid was re-elected.

Secretary Reid was instructed to file a formal claim against the Union Oil company for damages said to have been suffered by the city's industrial tract as the result of the oil deluge that accompanied the recent flood.

Final payments to the Aldrich Land company for the industrial tract are now due. Secretary Reid announced, in a total amount of $8312.

Notes due the Industrial Land company are outstanding more than sufficient to cover amount, he reported, and steps to effect their immediate collection are to be taken.

Mrs. J. Bloomquist Is Club Hostess

LOS ALAMITOS, Feb. 25.—Mrs. J. W. Bloomquist, assisted by the president, Mrs. H. Young, entertained the Willing Workers club on Tuesday afternoon. Flags and cut flowers were used in the decorations.

After the regular business had been transacted a short program was presented. "It Is the Flag" was given by Mrs. Earl Barker. Mrs. Maud G. Smith, of Long Beach, gave a humorous recitation, "The Bride's First Trip to the Butcher Shop."

[SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO]

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Feb. 25.—Mrs. Hugh McIninch and her Sunday school class of juniors held a meeting at the church Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter May spent Wednesday evening with relatives in Santa Ana.

Mrs. Mildred Pickard and Walter Congdon motored to Santa Ana Thursday evening.

The San Juan grammar school presented a patriotic program commemorating Washington's birthday to parents and friends of the pupils this afternoon.

The student body of the San Juan Capistrano union high school attended the Orange league basketball game between Tustin high school's "A" team and that of Capistrano. The score was 17 to 5 in favor of Tustin.

The local Parent-Teacher association announces a program of living pictures, which will be presented in the high school auditorium on the evening of March 4. A nominal sum will be charged for admission.

Anaheim Girls' League to Give Hi-Jinks March 4

ANAHEIM, Feb. 25.—Girls of the Anaheim union high school are looking forward with anticipation to what they regard as the big event of the school year, the Girls' league hi-jinx, which is to be staged in the auditorium of the school the evening of March 4, according to announcement this morning by Mrs. Cassina Watson, chief faculty advisor of the league.

More than 150 girls are to take part in a series of original "stunts," which are now being rehearsed by the various league groups in utmost secrecy. The Honor society and the Girls' Athletic association have been invited to participate in the program.

ANAHEIM TO FILE OIL DAMAGE CLAIMS

ANAHEIM, Feb. 25.—Property owners and residents of the section north of town recently inundated by oil and water are being urged by George W. Reid, secretary of the chamber of commerce, to combine with him relative to filing claims against the Union Oil company.

The breaking of an 80,000 barrel Union Oil company oil storage tank in the Richfield district is blamed by the property owners for the oil deluge which covered a large section of this city during the recent storm.

Secretary Reid declared that the chamber of commerce is planning to file a claim for damages suffered by the orange show grounds.

SPRINGDALE

SPRINGDALE, Feb. 25.—School was resumed Monday at Springdale following a vacation lasting almost a week while the furnace, which had been out of order, was being repaired. Almost all of the pupils who have been out of school since the measles and chickenpox epidemic has been on have returned to school. Edward Ruoff, who has just recovered from the measles, came back Monday. His sister, Mildred, who now has the disease, is improved but not up yet.

Doris and Florence Ray Moore had sufficiently recovered from chickenpox to resume their studies Monday.

The two small children of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Sork are ill at their home with the measles.

Several families who reside on local gun clubs have their yards under water as the result of the tide waters backing in during the storm last week and overflowing the canals. In the back yard of the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hurst, the water was still knee deep at the last report.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hamilton and Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton, of Pomona, friends of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Crane, were recent visitors in the Crane home.

William Phillips, of the Los Angeles club, left Sunday on a trip into the northern part of the state in company with Leonard Obarr, of Huntington Beach. The men drove and were going as far as Merced and probably Marysville, before their return.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bowden, of Santa Ana, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. Bowden's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Houser.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Giesler, who came the past week from their home in Talbert, driven out by the flood, are remaining as guests of Mrs. Giesler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Crane, until such time as the water recedes from the vicinity of their home.

Mrs. Eliza Phillips, of Santa Ana, is a guest in the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Phillips, with whom she will spend some time.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Robinson have been entertaining a number of guests in their home this week. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Rodecker, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Rodecker and two children, Charles and Helen Rodecker, of Santa Ana, were recent guests. Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Moore, cousins from Santa Ana, and Mrs. Mary B. Butcher, a cousin from Whittier, came to the Robinson home. Mr. and Mrs. Moore remained for the evening and Mrs. Butcher staying as a house guest over Wednesday. Other visitors on Tuesday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wentzel and their family. Wednesday morning, prior to the departure of Mrs. Butcher for her home, Mrs. Robinson and her guest took a motor trip up the coast.

THICK OIL SAND REPORTED IN HUNTINGTON BEACH AREA; SAN MARTINEZ LEASES LOTS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 25.—That an oil sand between 400 and 500 feet in thickness exists in the town lot section east of Seventeenth street, was the declaration of oil operators here today following the report that the Olympic Oil company has been drilling in an oil sand for nearly 400 feet. The Olympic well is reported to be down approximately 3850 feet and will be drilled 100 feet deeper.

Oil was struck at about 3460 feet, it is reported. The Olympic rig is located on Ocean avenue near Fifteenth street.

The Crudoil company, which is completing a project in the same vicinity, is reported to be 80 feet in the oil sand at a depth of about 3520 feet. The Crudoil company is having considerable trouble keeping the well under control, according to reports, because of heavy gas pressure.

Three well known local men, T. B. Talbert, S. E. Andrews and W. D. Young are interested in the four-lot lease upon which the Crudoil rig is located.

Further evidence that the San Martinez company has good showings in its Ninth street well was given today, with the announcement that the company has leased seven more lots in the vicinity of the well. The lease includes property owned by B. W. Hardy, W. A. Nichols of this city and Mrs. Susie Nichols, of Garden Grove.

Another new company, the Camp Oil company, entered the field yesterday, securing a lease on property at Thirteenth street and Ocean avenue owned by Frank Glickner, local clothing store owner. The Camp company expects to develop the property at once, according to reports. Lumber was reported to be on the ground today for a rig.

The first activity on Eleventh street was shown yesterday, when Fred W. Roberts, well known individual operator in the Long Beach field, was issued a permit by the city building department for a rig on Eleventh street between Ocean and Walnut avenues.

Considerable property is reported to have changed hands in the vicinity of Tenth street during the past few days. C. W. Conrad, postmaster, is reported to have sold his property on the corner of Tenth street and Walnut avenue, receiving $13,500.

Mrs. L. Wootin, of Willows, is another Tenth street property owner to sell. Mrs. Wootin is reported to have disposed of her property at Olive avenue and Tenth street for a consideration of $9500.

PLACENTIA

PLACENTIA, Feb. 25.—Harry Von Bruck, evangelist, will have charge of services at the Calvary church on Sunday in the absence of their pastor, the Rev. Charles E. Fuller.

Mrs. Elmer Hochstein spent Wednesday and Thursday looking after business interests in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. James Huntley attended the Orange show at San Bernardino on Tuesday.

At the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening, a sacred concert will be given by the Ladies' Glee club of Whittier college. The club includes 24 members, who will present vocal solos, violin duets, whistling solos and musical readings.

Mr. and Mrs. Orman Harlow, of Primrose avenue, are the parents of a seven and a half pound baby son, born February 21. The baby has been named Richard Warren.

Mrs. Arthur Chapman and small son Arthur, of Los Angeles, returned home on Tuesday after spending a few days with their parents, Dr. and Mrs. P. M. Dowling.

Jack Williams, of Long Beach, past district governor, was the main speaker of the day at the Fullerton Rotary club meeting, held at the Placentia Round Table clubhouse on Wednesday.

This was the third of a series of interurban meetings arranged by the Fullerton Rotarians with the object of promoting good will and better acquaintanceship between the communities.

Mrs. H. S. Leavitt has been quite ill at her home for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fair and son, Cameron, visited Mrs. Fair's brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Harold Capper, at Riverside on Sunday. Mrs. Fair remained until Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Anna New had Mr. and Mrs. Frank Metz, of Nevada, as guests on Tuesday.

Mrs. James Brunsdon had her grandson, James Ferguson, of Long Beach, as a guest on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Fox are the parents of an eight and a half pound baby girl, born February 22. Le Roy Lyons is quite ill at his home with influenza.

SUPERIOR WILL LAY NEW LINES IN BEACH AREA

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 25.—Considerable speculation is being done by oil operators of this city over the action of the Superior Oil company, which yesterday secured a permit for pipe lines leading from Seventeenth street down the alley between Ocean and Walnut avenue to the alley between Fifth and Sixth streets.

The pipe lines will come to the edge of the restricted area in the business district. Just what the Superior company plans to do is a source of much speculation.

The permit calls for two five-inch oil lines, one three-inch water line and one three-inch waste line. The Superior company thought enough of the privilege to pay the city more than $1000 in license fees for permission to lay the lines.

The move is regarded as an indication that the Superior company may start drilling soon on one of its several leases near the business section. The Superior recently secured a lease on property belonging to Mrs. L. E. Worthy at the corner of Sixth street and Walnut avenue, and, according to reports, has several other leases in the vicinity.

The Superior company was the first to strike oil in the town lot section and its evident interest in the section within a few hundred feet of the business district is regarded as an indication for more oil derricks.

TEACHERS SPEAK AT TUSTIN MEET

TUSTIN, Feb. 25.—Talks by teachers of the various departments of the local high school featured the meeting of the Parent-Teacher association yesterday. Mrs. Clara A. Jones submitted her resignation as secretary of the organization. The resignation was accepted and Mrs. A. M. Robinson was appointed temporary secretary.

Clyde Cook, coach of athletic activities at the school; Miss Stella Youm, head of the mathematics department, and J. W. Means, principal of the school, were the speakers. Cook spoke of the benefits children derive from athletics. Miss Youm spoke of the advantages received from the study of algebra.

J. W. Means explained the new five-point system which has recently been installed in the local high school. His explanation showed the advantages of the system. Under the new system students receiving a "one" or a "two" grade are recommended for college. A "three" grade shows the student to be average while a "four" or "five" grade shows them to be barely passing.

Charles Brisco, head of the shop department of the school, delivered a short talk on vocational training.

Mr. R. Edson and Mrs. R. L. Hind were named on a committee to secure new members for the P. T. A. Mrs. Harvey Ritner, chairman of the ways and means committee of the organization, proposed several ways of raising money for the P. T. A.

Richard Ford and Marshall Dunkin, students in the school, presented several pantomime numbers. Mrs. S. A. Samuelson, president of the organization, was in charge of the meeting.

OPEN PLACENTIA LIBRARY MARCH 7

PLACENTIA, Feb. 25.—The formal opening of the new Placentia public library has been set for March 7 by the members of the library board.

A program is being arranged for the day. Milton J. Ferguson, state librarian, is expected to be present.

Rev. Fuller Will Hold Conference In Walla Walla

PLACENTIA, Feb. 25.—The Rev. Charles E. Fuller left on Tuesday to look after interests of the Bible institute, Los Angeles, in San Francisco. He will go on to Walla Walla, Wash., to hold a two weeks Bible conference. Mrs. Fuller and son, Danny, accompanied him as far as Los Angeles.

NEWS FROM ORANGE AND SURROUNDING DISTRICT

WIRE CONCERN GETS 800,000 POUND ORDER

ORANGE, Feb. 25.—An order for 800,000 pounds of copper cable, costing more than $100,000, was received by the California Wire and Cable company today from the water and power division of the city of Los Angeles. The order is one of the largest received at the plant in some time.

The cable is to be used for electrical purposes in Los Angeles and its delivery will be spread over the next six months, according to officers of the wire company.

The California Wire and Cable company is facing the biggest year in its history, according to reports. Outstanding unfilled orders at the local plant total more than $5,000,000 pounds of copper wire and cable, it was reported. An extra half shift of employees is now working at the plant to fill orders and more people may be employed, it is reported. There are approximately 150 persons working at the plant at the present time.

Orders received during the past few weeks include orders for electric cable for the Philippine islands and several small orders from Mexico. The three coast states, California, Oregon and Washington, and a few interior states are taking the remainder of the company's output, it is announced.

Officers Lose Way In Trying To Locate Way

ORANGE, Feb. 25.—East side, west side, all about the town, describes the search by Motor Officer Horace Inge and Patrolman Fred Swayze yesterday afternoon for Montgomery way. The street was unfamiliar to them and they didn't know where to look.

The search was occasioned when a report was received at the police headquarters that a car was stuck in the mud on the aforementioned street and that it appeared to have been abandoned.

With the help of the engineering department, the officers located Montgomery way between West Culver and La Veta avenues and west of the Santa Fe tracks. However, the car had been pulled out of the mud by its legal owner and when the officers arrived on the scene, was in the process of repair nearby.

Colonial Party Staged by Star Orange Chapter

ORANGE, Feb. 25.—Members of Scepter chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, staged a colonial party in the Masonic temple last night.

The program of the evening featured a review of the costumes from the girl of 1650 to the flapper of 1927. Those who enacted the various types in costume were as follows: Miss Jean Eddy, Puritan girl; Mrs. W. M. Whitney, 1820 maiden; Mrs. George Struck, Civil war character; Mrs. Elizabeth Benson, 1832 girl; Mrs. Jack Clayton, 1838 damsel; Mrs. Dorothy Ross, 1902 lass; Mrs. Lucien Plippen, 1911 girl; Miss Genevieve Conger, 1915 maid; Mrs. Sherman Gillogly, 1918 Red Cross nurse; two high school girls in a modern dance to represent 1927.

Music appropriate to each period was played while the representatives of that period occupied the stage.

Following the entertainment, a committee consisting of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Chapman and Mr. and Mrs. William Knuth served refreshments to the group.

Merchants' Name Contest Launched

Orange, Feb. 25.—Wanted, a name. The newly organized Orange business men's association will hold a public contest for an appropriate name for the new organization.

The contest, which is open to citizens of the Orange district, will run for two weeks at the end of which period judges will select the most appropriate name submitted from the lot.

A five dollar award will be made to the winner. All names should be left at the Orange Community Chamber of Commerce office, beginning at once.

In order to eliminate possible duplication, each contribution will be numbered as it is handed in at the chamber office and in case the winning name is duplicated by several persons, the award will go to the person who submitted the name first.

The title must be appropriate and incorporating the aim of the organization, which is set forth as follows in the constitution:

"The object of the association will be the promotion of the common interests of its members by increasing the facilities for our mercantile enterprise and also for the general advancement of the community."

GAS COMPANY OFFICE WILL OPEN TUESDAY

ORANGE, Feb. 25.—Orange's new gas office building on South Grand street will be opened for business next Tuesday morning. E. Rutledge, superintendent of the Southern Counties Gas company, announced this morning.

With additional office fixtures and partitions not covered in the contractor's work, the cost of the building will reach $13,000, Rutledge estimated.

No increase in personnel will be made, Rutledge said. The only motive in building the new structure was to give the force better facilities to serve

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain How to Treat

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sits in the stomach, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try taking a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bismarck Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Adv.

Bothered With Pimples Two Years Cuticura Healed

"I was bothered with pimples that broke out over my face, limbs and other parts of my body. They were hard, large and red, and feasted and scaled over. They itched and burned, causing me to scratch, and were very annoying. I could not put my hands in water, or do my regular work, and my clothing aggravated the breaking out on my back. I could not rest at night and my face was disfigured. I was bothered for two years.

"I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and purchased more and in six weeks I was healed." (Signed) Miss Dee A. Miller, Marshall, Wash.

SANTA ANA FRATERNAL AND PATRIOTIC ORDERS

EASTERN STAR ORDER HOLDS ANNUAL PARTY

Dressed in the silks and satins of the days of George Washington, members of the Hermosa chapter, Order of Eastern Star, gathered Monday night in the Masonic temple for their annual Colonial party. Adding to the brilliancy of the costumes were the old fashioned French bouquets, presented to the women and the gay boutonnières given to the men.

Following a short business meeting, a program appropriate to the date was presented. Miss Lucy Agar, of the Santa Ana high school faculty, gave an address on "Colonial Customs."

An unusually pretty affair was the old fashioned minuet. Those taking part in the dance were Lois La Bard, Olive Gilbert, Dorothy Smith, Hester Olevier, Veda Mitchell, Edna Gammel, Anna Patterson, Naomi Keller, Hazel Salisbury, Esther Yeager, Lois Osterman, Marcia Rains, Linna West, Hazel Dane and Ruby Toles.

Mrs. L. L. Beeman sang "Ashes of Roses" and Clay Williams sang a number of old fashioned songs. Those taking part in the tableaux were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rowland, "Loves' Old Sweet Song;" Mrs. Flossie Winters and baby, Shirley, "Sweet and Low;" Dorothy Pease, "Believe Me of All Those Endearing Young Charms;" Grace Wilson, "In the Gloaming;" Charles Mitchell, "Fiddle and I;" Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell, "When You and I Were Young, Aggie;" and Minnie F. May, "Star Spangled Banner."

Following the singing of the National Anthem, in which everyone joined, the guests were escorted to the dining rooms, which had been decorated with tiny flags. On the tables were dolls dressed in colonial costumes in the colors of red, white and blue. The committee in charge of the refreshments included Emma Jean Trueblood, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pease, Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Zeman and Mr. and Mrs. Will Clevenger.

Dance and Card Party Announced By Lodge of Elks

Proving the success of other dances given by the lodge throughout the winter months is the fact that Santa Ana lodge, No. 794, B. P. O. E., has announced plans for another dance and card party, to be held Tuesday night, March 15.

This will be the last dance and card party to be put on under the regime of the present officers, whose chairs soon will be filled by new officers, to be elected at the next meeting. Owing to the nearness of St. Patrick's day, the motif for the party will be Irish.

William McKay, exalted ruler, and Mrs. McKay, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Sleeper and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Newcomb will form the reception committee, while L. A. Schlessinger will be chairman of the entertainment committee.

Hosts in the ballroom will include Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Abbey, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Crawford.

Those to have charge of cards are Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Flagg, Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Rossiter, Mr. and Mrs. Park Roper and Mr. and Mrs. Archie V. Herr.

LARGE CROWD ENTERTAINED BY K. P. LODGE

More than 200 members of Santa Ana lodge, No. 143, Knights of Pythias and Santa Ana temple, No. 115, Pythian Sisters and their friends enjoyed the program presented last Wednesday evening by the entertainment committee in celebration of the 63rd anniversary of the founding of the order Knights of Pythias.

William G. Vaughan, grand master-at-arms, was an honored guest, having been sent here on official business by Fred Jones, grand chancellor for California.

The program, which was acclaimed by those present to have been the best presented by the local lodge in recent months, included the following artists:

Merle Ramsey and daughter, Dorothy, xylophone entertainers; Dolly Dennis, reader; Eddie Jones and John Wesley in Hawaiian duet; Ben Sargent, banjo; M. Buttram, George Scott and Eddie Jones an old-time melodies; Jerry Tannebaum, violinist; Edwin Delgado, baritone soloist; Ruth Frothingham, accompanist.

Cecil May, negro impersonator, entertained with several dances, accompanied by George Scott, Eddie Jones and M. Buttram. Other numbers were by Soleta Pringle, Spanish dancer, Sol Gonzales, accompanist; Marion Mauley French folk dance; Peggy Bronson, in a dance called "Jazz;" Virginia Pritchard, ballet dancer; Mayone Kenyon, and Virginia Pritchard, clad as George and Martha Washington did the minuet, accompanied by Mrs. D. S. Mauley.

Two hours of dancing to music furnished by Bud Paschall and his orchestra concluded a pleasant evening.

MANY SCOTS TO BE PRESENT AT CEREMONIAL

Assured that Scot lodges in Long Beach, San Diego, Pasadena and Los Angeles, as well as in several smaller towns, will be well represented here tomorrow night at the ceremonial, Santa Ana Scots are looking forward to the biggest gathering of Scots ever held in Santa Ana. Two lodges will send their bands and two their drill teams, while there is a possibility that the famous kilie band, of Los Angeles also will be present, according to Walter Wright, toparch.

A large class of candidates will be initiated in the Yost Spurgeon theater, following the parade in uniform, which starting at 8 o'clock, will cover several downtown streets, including Fourth street.

At 9 o'clock, the evening's program will begin, with each visiting lodge putting on a stunt. There also will be vaudeville, procured in Los Angeles especially for the occasion, Wright said.

Across the street from the theater in a part of the Meyer hotel, refreshments will be served.

Wright stated that he wished to mention the kindness of city corporations in co-operating with the lodge in arranging for the parade and other details connected with the ceremonial.

Twenty-four applications were accepted at Wednesday night's meeting of the lodge, which will make a total of 45 candidates to be initiated Saturday.

STATE OFFICERS OF REBEKAHS HERE

Mabel R. Seeley, state president, of the Rebekah assembly, was in Santa Ana Wednesday, when Mrs. Seeley acted as instructor at the district school of instruction held by the Torrance Rebekah lodge. There was a large attendance from all lodges in district 50, as well as many visitors from other districts, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Murray, who had come from Bakersfield for the event.

Various officers who attended the institute besides Mrs. Seeley, included May Reynolds, vice state president of the Rebekah assembly; Amelia Prather, chaplain of the assembly; Ruth Kantz, assistant; Fannie Lacy, Alice Pierce, Marie Steinman and Ella Van Court, all past presidents of the assembly; Mrs. Link, past president of the Colorado assembly; A. R. Palmer of Orange, grand master of the grand lodge of California; Roy Bishop, marshal of the grand lodge; Henry Mang, sentinel of the grand lodge; and three district deputy presidents and 10 past district deputy presidents.

Classes Are Enjoyed

The classes, which were held throughout the day, were enjoyed by everyone, according to reports received from Santa Ana members of the order.

In the evening, the cantons of Santa Ana, in full uniform, acted as escort for the grand officers, who were led to the center of the lodge room, where they received a shower of rose petals after which they were escorted to seats under an arch of crossed swords, which symbolized the beauty and protection of the order.

At the close of the regular session, a program was presented by Fannie M. Lacy.

Guests Are Welcomed

The first address was given by Maude Lentz, who welcomed the many guests. An inspiring talk, by Grand Master Palmer, dealt with the desires of the children who graduated from I. O. O. F. orphanages for higher education. Palmer told how members of the order could aid these children in accomplishing their ambitions.

Mrs. Seeley complimented the lodge here on the work which it has accomplished and told of a few of the events planned by the Rebekahs for the coming year.

Mrs. Pierce, who is a trustee of the Gilroy orphanage, asked Orange county members to send oranges to the orphanage, where a number of the children are just recovering from attacks of measles.

Hjalmar Johnson, of Pasadena, sang "Lay My Head Beneath a Rose" and responded to applause with an encore. Mrs. Bamforth, district deputy president of Los Angeles, sang two numbers which included "An Open Secret."

BANQUET SERVED TO WHITE SHRINE

Mrs. Mary P. Matthews, chairman of arrangements, and her capable committee achieved a beautiful effect on Tuesday night, in Masonic temple, when they planned a 6 o'clock banquet for the members of the White Shrine and their honor guests, the supreme high priestess, Mrs. Clara Smith Heizenbottel, and her escort, who paid an official visit to the Shrine.

The banquet was served on one long table and several smaller ones. The feast held a center of George Washington with his log and hatchet. The nut cups were tiny logs and the place cards were miniature busts of the father of our country. The menu had for its final course cherry pie, topped with tiny flags.

The smaller tables also held the hatchets and logs, while delicate yellow acacias and sweet peas, flags and pictures of Washington formed the dining room and hall decorations.

More than 150 were served. Mrs. Mary Ann Mueller, Santa Ana high priestess, and Judson Sutherland, watchman of shepherds, shared honors with the visiting supreme officers.

During the business meeting of the Shrine, the visitors and other members were called upon to make talks.

MASONS ATTEND CLUB INSTITUTION

Santa Ana Masons, interested in the Masonic resort in the Valley of the Moon in the San Bernardino mountains, journeyed to Culver City Wednesday night in order to be present at the institution of the Masonic Club of the Valley of the Moon.

Present at the institution were more than 35 members of the new club from various cities throughout Southern California.

Following the usual ritual, a Spanish program was presented, when a Spanish orchestra played a number of selections and a Spanish girl gave several dances. Two entertainers from the Cecil de Mille studios also were present.

Santa Anans who attended the institution included Willard Ashford, Charles Dahlem, Charles Matern, Hestro Collins, Archie Gorton, Samuel Mustel, Fred Studley, Walter Grindrod and Fritz Muller.

W. R. C. Ballots on Three Candidates

Sedgwick corps, No. 17, Woman's Relief Corps, held an enjoyable and well attended meeting Thursday afternoon, in G. A. R. hall. Among the business matters coming before the meeting was the balloting upon the names of three candidates. Fifty-six visits were reported and the presentation of six bouquets and two potted plants to the sick and shut-ins.

Pythian Sisters Hold Initiation

Spending the evening in pleasant conversation and in the playing of games, Pythian Sisters met Tuesday night in G. A. R. hall. A short business meeting was held.

Dr. and Mrs. William F. Klattner, Miss Briggs and Thomas Elliott were initiated.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. J. A. Gardner, Mrs. Howard Clemmens and Miss Dolly Dennis.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday night, March 8, in G. A. R. hall.

NATIVE SONS TO VIEW COLLECTION

Santa Ana Parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West, is planning to go to Riverside Sunday, March 6, for the purpose of inspecting the collection of historical relics owned by Mr. Tibbets, of that city, according to an announcement made at Wednesday night's meeting, in the K. P. hall.

The parlor is contemplating the purchase of the relics if a proper place can be found in which to place them. It is for this reason that members will go to Riverside to view them.

In order to add to the interest of the trip, members are requested to bring their families and a picnic lunch which will be eaten at some appropriate place along the way.

Other business discussed was the placing of landmarks along the roads in California and the repairing of the El Camino Real bells.

CROWD EXPECTED AT LEGION DANCE

Plans for the American Legion dance, to be held at the Legion home tomorrow night to raise funds for purchasing uniforms for the post's drum corps, were completed today, according to an announcement by Joe Plank, in charge of the dance arrangements.

More than 200 couples are expected to attend, it was said.

The post needs a fund on which to draw to purchase caps, shirts and trousers from the drum corps, which is said to be one of the best marching units in the American Legion in California.

TOASTMASTERS CLUB DIVIDED INTO SECTIONS

Replete with interesting subjects, many of them having a direct reference to local affairs and others having a bearing on national problems, are the programs arranged for Monday night's regular meeting of the recently-organized section of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. Toastmaster's club, according to announcement by Earl Matthews, president of the new section. The new section of the club meets each Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock, while the old section holds its meetings on Wednesday evening.

In order to accommodate the large number of members of the new section, it is divided into two parts, the program being run simultaneously, in different rooms.

Following are the subjects and the names of respective speakers on the program for Monday evening:

First section, D. L. Kessling, toastmaster; "Orange County Highways" Tom Oglesby; "The Wealth of Orange County," Guy Christian; "Prevent Forest Fires," Wilbur Lewis; "The Benefits of Prohibition," A. J. Rutter; "The Installation Pay Business," R. I. Matthews; "What Our Flag Stands For," R. Earl Elliott; "How to Be Happy," R. C. Goodell.

Second section, Earl Matthews, toastmaster; "Make Your Will," R. C. Berger; "The Airplane in Peace," George Lacey; "Buying on Installments," T. J. Corn; "The Greatness of America," J. B. Head; "The Monroe Doctrine," Grant Henderson; "Modern Traffic Problems," Reginald Hartley; "Co-operative Marketing," Joe Lister.

Woodcraft Folk Have Card Party

Neighbors of Woodcraft and their guests spent a pleasant evening Monday night, at M. W. A. hall. The meeting was devoted to playing cards. Arrangements for the party were in charge of Clarence Ridenour, William Penrose and Mrs. Margaret Erickson.

Mrs. Nona Franklin and K. Beard held high scores, with Mrs. G. F. Ludlow and George Merriam second high, and Mrs. Mamie Thompson and G. F. Ludlow had low. Each received an appropriate prize.

At the short business meeting, which preceded the party, two new members were voted into the lodge.

Public Relations Director Passes

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25.—R. S. ### 6 DECLARE CANDIDACIES FOR OFFICE BY FILING PETITIONS

The city election approacheth. The date thereof is April 11. The last day for filing petitions is 20 days previous thereto.

Some have not waited by the wayside for the closing days of the petition filing period. To be exact, six have completed their petitions and have filed them with City Clerk E. L. Vogely. These six in the order of their coming into the clerk's office, are Miss Margaret Esau, out for city treasurer; Dr. John Ball, candidate for member of the board of education; Edward Cochems, candidate for trustee, third ward; J. F. Talbot, candidate for city recorder; Claude Rogers, seeking re-election as city marshal; Floyd Gordon, candidate for trustee, first ward.

Two other candidates have taken out their papers, and are ready to file them. These two are C. E. Jackson, who seeks the city marshalship, and M. C. Cooper, candidate for trustee, first ward.

Busy Persuading

Quite a number of public-spirited citizens have been busy these last two or three days trying to persuade various residents of this fair city to become candidates for something or another.

There has been quite a stir in relation to the school board. Here are some facts, near-facts and suppositions. For instance, it is a fact that Dr. John Ball, Carl Edgar, Clyde C. Downing, Dr. Roy S. Horton, George Dunton, Will O'Brien and Lloyd E. Roach are candidates for the school board.

Further, for instance, it is a near-fact that R. R. Smith, former member, is a candidate for the board. That is, it is understood he is just about ready to take out papers.

And, again, for instance, it is not supposed that James Harding, Frank Was, J. S. Hill, Robert Speed, J. S. Hill and E. T. Matter will be candidates, for they say positively they won't. And they ought to know.

Today, the periscope got a wireless to the effect that a hot path was being worn along the second floor of the First National bank building for those who are keeping Attorney A. W. Rutan from practicing law these days. They are trying to get the attorney to agree to run.

Trustee Candidates

Two candidates have announced themselves as ready and willing to be elected trustee of the first ward. These two are Floyd Gordon and M. C. Cooper.

It is quite well known that two other residents of the first ward have been urged to enter the race. These two are J. L. McBride, for eight years a member of the Santa Ana board of education and for several years county surveyor and county superintendent of highways, and L. M. Forcey, who is in charge of the collection department of the First National bank.

The situation in the second ward was somewhat clarified by last night's gathering at the Lincoln schoolhouse on French street. Previous to that gathering, Stanley E. Goode, who has been a city trustee for about a year through appointment following the resignation of J. W. Tubbs, had not reached a decision as to whether he would be a candidate. Two or three weeks ago, he stated that he felt that he was not particularly anxious to run. In fact, with his street department, of which he has had charge as commissioner, in fine fix financially, with all of the dirt alleys of the city to be graded and graveled before he would go out of office, he was quite content to turn the work over to somebody else. Goode seems to have had experience enough in his year to know just what a city trustee is up against. As a result of the meeting last night, asked by the gathering to be a candidate, Goode has decided to stand for election.

Three or four days ago, it was announced that Van Arsdale, 801 Lacy, proprietor of the cigar store on Third street between Main and Bush, would enter the race in the second ward.

The third ward has furnished two candidates up to the present. These two are O. W. Humphrey, former trust officer and escrow agent of the Abstract and Title company, and Edward Cochems, real estate man and photographer. It is understood that G. G. Latimer, who has been prominent in the affairs of the Citizens' association, recently organized political group, expects to make the race.

In the fourth ward, George McPhee, city trustee at this time, will be a candidate for re-election.

So far, McPhee is running alone, without an opponent. For some two or three weeks, efforts were under way to get Wilbur Getty, sheet metal works proprietor, to seek the fourth ward trusteeship. Getty today declared positively that he would not run. He has been chosen as a vice president of the state organization of the American Legion, and, under American Legion rules, he would have to resign that position were he to become a candidate for any office. Getty prefers the vice presidency to a race for city council.

But two candidates have appeared in the fifth ward. There's Mayor Frank L. Purinton, city trustee from the fifth, well known in numerous city activities. Purinton was chosen as chairman of the board of trustees a year ago, when J. W. Tubbs resigned. He is manager of the Grand Central market building. Joseph Dismukes, resident of Santa Ana for quite a number of years, is scheduled to run against Purinton as the choice of a gathering at the home of Charles Heinrich two or three weeks ago.

The Question of Pay

Since candidates are up for consideration, it might be well to shed whatever light that should be shed upon the question of compensation.

The pay of a city trustee for a few years past has been $25 a month. On the same day that city officers are elected, a proposition will be before the voters for raising the salary to $75 a month for each city trustee, with $100 for the trustee who happens to be chosen by his associates as chairman of the board, which position, by common consent, is called mayor. If this proposition fails, the salary will remain at $25.

No pay is provided and none is to be provided for the members of the board of education. The city council was willing to pass an ordinance giving each member of the school board $5 a meeting, with a limit of pay for four or five meetings a month, but the council would not pass the ordinance unless the present board of education asked for it. No such request was forthcoming, and therefore the proposal to fix pay for the next board of education is done for. Should the next board of education ask for pay possibly the next city council would give it.

DIRECTORS RE-ELECTED

FRESNO, Feb. 25.—Ralph P. Merritt, Vaughn D. Whitmore and Clayton I. Chandler, directors of the Sun-Maid Raisin Growers' Association of California, whose terms of office had expired, were re-elected by the advisory council of the association.

Rosewood is not the wood of any kind of rose tree. It is obtained chiefly from certain kinds of Brazilian trees. The name is due to a faint smell of roses when the wood is freshly cut.

Interesting News of the Day Told In Pictures

The shack is just outside the walls of the Iowa state penitentiary at Fort Madison.

Mrs. Farnell lives in it to be near her son, Gean Farnell, shown below, whose sentence may keep him in the prison for life.

"I'll be waiting if he ever comes out," Mrs. Farnell says.

Marion Meyers, 19-year-old coed at the University of South Dakota, wanted $24 to pay tuition, she told police when they found her in the First National bank, at Vermillion, armed with electric drill, screw driver, tin snips and pliers. Marion got no money, although she even climbed a pole before the attempted robbery and cut wires she thought belonged to the burglar alarm.

Joseph St. Peter, western Washington movie magnate, has been appointed to straighten out the state's moral codes. He admits playing the ponies and slot machines and that he doesn't give a whoop who knows it.

The mysterious disappearance of Elton McMahon, San Francisco prohibition agent, was solved when Dr. J. Felton Taylor reported that McMahon probably was in the bay, trapped under Taylor's car, which he was driving. Taylor escaped, claiming not to remember how. Search of the bay off an unguarded pier shown in the upper picture brought to light McMahon's body and the automobile. Below is McMahon.

Miss Maud Myers (above), and the Rev. D. V. Downey, former pastor of the St. Bonaventure Catholic church, of Marceline, Mo., where Miss Myers lived, were married in Chicago, according to Cook county officials. Relatives had sought Miss Myers since the day she and the pastor disappeared from Marceline.

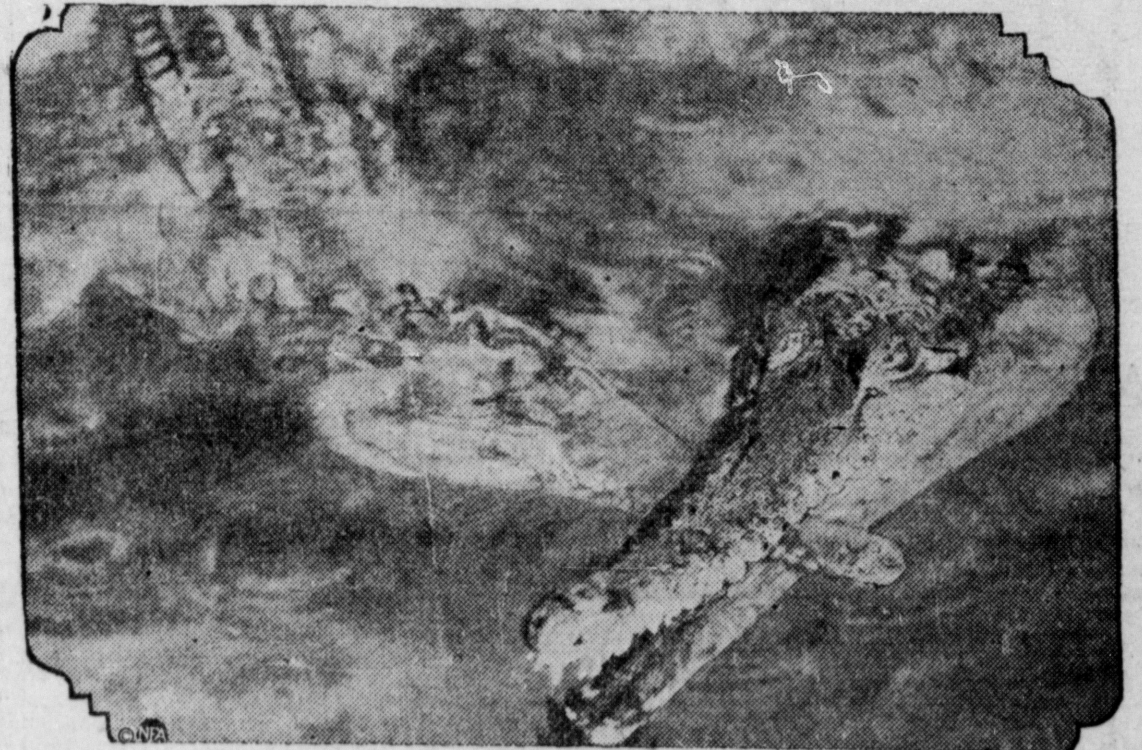

Justice Albert H. F. Seeger forbade photographers to make pictures at the Browning trial at White Plains, N. Y., but that didn't prevent Browning posing on the witness stand after court had adjourned. Admiring Browning's swanky tie from below is one of the little celluloid geese which have become so popular a novelty in New York and its environs since "Peaches" testimony about the "African honking gander" her elderly husband adopted as a pet soon after their ill-starred marriage. Hundreds of these trial souvenirs were sold outside the courthouse.

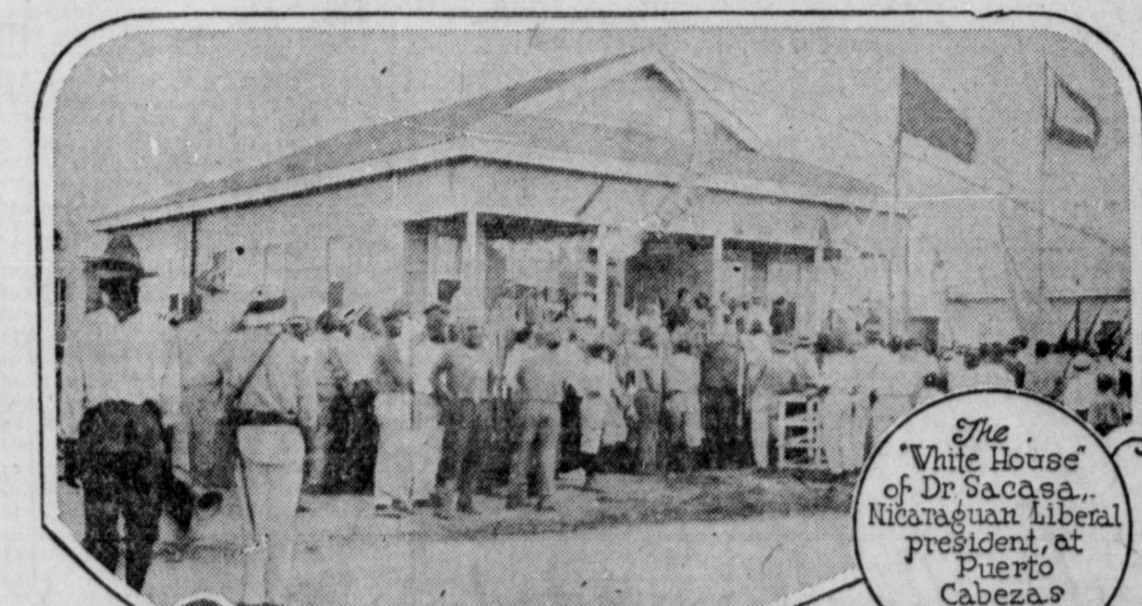

Eighteen years ago Lester Edge, a lawyer in Spokane, Wn., was elected to the state legislature on the Democratic ticket. This year he was elected to the same office from the same district by practically the same vote on the Republican ticket.

Deported from Mexico by President Calles, Bishop Pascual Diaz, of Tabasco, arrived in New York on the S. S. Zacapa. Shaking hands with him (right) is Monsignor Carroll, representing Cardinal Hayes, of New York. Others in the welcoming delegation were (front row, left to right), Martin Conboy, chairman of delegation; Judge Talley, president of the Association for the Protection of Religious Rights in Mexico, and the Rev. C. de Heredia, of the Society of Jesus.

One of the rarest every made a naturalist is this photo of two crocodiles fighting to the death. It was obtained in northern Australia by Francis Birtles and shows one saurian (left) with his snout held fast by the other who is endeavoring to drown his antagonist by holding him under water. After taking this photo, Birtles saw the former gradually cease his struggles and finally float away dead and the victor thrash his heavy tail and disappear.

The "White House" of Dr. Sacasa, Nicaraguan Liberal president, at Puerto Cabezas

News which belted the globe day after day incubated in the cottage home of the Sacasa revolution in Nicaragua, pictured above, with the revolution's leaders. The cottage, a two-family affair formerly used by sawmill hands, looks out from Puerto Cabezas, Nicaragua, over the Caribbean sea, a thousand miles and more south of New Orleans. The crowd shown in the picture had gathered to congratulate Dr. Sacasa on a military victory. Hopes of success for the revolution faded when Uncle Sam stepped in with support for the other side.
